THERE is much that is inscrutable in the management of all large cities. Matters exist that perplex the commonsense citizen whose notions of prudence, economy and so forth are based upon ordinary experience. We doubt, however, whether any city presents the puzzle that New York does in its Register's office. We refer to the building in which one of the most, if not the most, valuable and important set of documents in the country are housed for safe-keeping and ready reference. If any one wants to add the sensation of the burlesque to the daily emotions of city life there is absolutely no way in which he can get it readier, or fuller, or deeper down, than by perambulating around the old tinder-box with its Doric columns in City Hall Park, and at the same time trying to square what he sees before him with a normal notion of the essentials of a Register's building in a great city. It is unnecessary to state the ludricous contradiction that exists between the building that is and the one that ought to be. No Cheerful Idiot could house the city's records in a more inadequate, unsafe, incommodious or ridiculous manner. The structure undoubtedly adds the humorous to the bald and technical details of deeds and mortgages, but what else it adds no person on earth can find out. The building has been condemned utterly by a generation of registers and by a long army of martyred lawyers and citizens who have been obliged to frequent it. Must we have a disaster in order to remove the structure? Steps should be taken at once to put the city's records in safety. Under Mr. Fromme's administration the Register's office has become a model city department, and under his administration we would like to see a new building adequate to the requirements of the metropolis built and inaugurated.

THE appearance of New York City would be greatly improved by some mitigation of the display of commercial signs. The exterior of buildings on even our main thoroughfares have been degraded into mere scaffolds for advertising purposes. This gives the city a certain provincial and unkempt appearance. The big office buildings have shown that this is quite unnecessary. They have been able to control the eruption of signs either by prohibiting the display entirely or by insisting upon a uniformity in the style and size of banner or board permitted. Clearly, in a struggle for prominence, everybody is undone, and the city disfigured. If the common sense and civic pride of real estate owners and merchants are not sufficient to control this nuisance, some measure of legal restriction should be adopted.

The tax rate for the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx is now fixed at $2.01.

SIDEWALK GRATINGS AND COAL SLIDE COVERS.

EVERY person is annoyed and inconvenienced in walking along the streets of this city by the iron covers which project above the surface of the sidewalks, and by the open iron gratings through which come puffs of hot air, forced upwards by blowers from boiler rooms under the sidewalk. These inconveniences and annoyances to pedestrians constitute a public nuisance and should be abated. Their existence is contrary to law and ordinances, and it is entirely within the powers of certain public officials to correct existing violations and to prevent future violations of the laws and ordinances that have been established to secure smooth and level pavements for people to walk upon.

The City ordinances, continued in force by the new charter, state the kind of materials that sidewalks shall be laid with—iron not being mentioned—and require an even surface with no abrupt irregularities, and having a slight pitch toward the curb. The building law says that openings for the admission of coal or light to vaults shall be covered with lens lights in iron frames or with iron covers having a rough surface, and rabbitted flush with the sidewalk; that is, let in the sidewalk, so that the walking surface of the cover and sidewalk will be on the same plane.

Where one cover to a coal slide has been let in flush with the sidewalk there are twenty-five or more that have not been let in. The overwhelming majority are above the surface of the sidewalk by just as much as the metal of the cover is in thickness; or, say, three-quarters of an inch. The coal slide openings are seldom placed out toward the curb, where they ought to be invariably located, but are placed wherever it is most convenient for a builder to place them, either directly in the centre of the walk or a little on the inside of the centre line, generally right in the natural line of foot travel. Many persons will not step on a coal hole cover, and such persons have to wend their way along by a sinuous line in walking the length of a block to avoid the covers.

Worse than coal covers, in respect to inconvenience to pedestrians, are the many hundreds of glass lens and iron doors, placed on the sidewalk and projecting above the level of the same. The encircling iron frame of such a door is generally let in flush with the sidewalk, but the thickness of the door is above the frame, and above the door surface are the heavy iron hinges which connect the door to the frame. The knuckles of the hinges rise two inches or more above the level of the sidewalk. More frequently these doors are placed in the centre of the sidewalk than toward the curb.

Still worse than coal covers and solid doors, are the open iron gratings on sidewalks. Standing on one of these gratings a person can look down to the vault floor, perhaps twenty feet below, and see machinery in motion or steam boilers. Over some vaults a single grating, measuring ten square feet or more, is placed. In other instances several such gratings of smaller size are placed in a row. It would be invidious to name a single one of the abundant places where such gratings can be seen. They are to be found on the sidewalk in front of many office buildings, hotels, clubs and business buildings. Over these gratings women and men are compelled to walk, or go around them, and in any case to sniff the hot air laden with oil fume or coal dust that comes belching up through the openings.

It is time these evils were taken in hand. That owners, architects and builders will construct sidewalks in such manner as to inconvenience the public, if not actually made dangerous to life and health, shows the necessity for stringent regulations in every branch of building. The Building Department has never moved in sidewalk matters over which it has control; the Department of Public Works, now the Department of Highways, has been indifferent in the same direction; and the Board of Health has apparently never seen any reason for action. Singly or unitedly these departments should take up the subject of sidewalk construction in the interest of the comfort, the safety, and the health of the public.

THE PARK ROW.

THE Park Row office building has the distinction, which it is to be hoped it may be allowed to retain, of the tallest in the world. We hear of nothing projected to surpass it in altitude. Even if it should justify itself from a commercial point of view, it will strengthen the pressure for restriction which has been gathering force for years, both upon "neighborly" and civic grounds. Now that that pressure can be put upon a local legislature, which is at least more responsible and responsive to local opinion than the legislature of the State, and that it is reinforced by a local art commission, we may hope that no more monsters will be allowed to rear themselvse in New York. New York is already the only city in which such a monster would be allowed to rear itself, and New York ought to rid itself as soon as may be of that unenviable distinction.

The conditions not under the control of the architect are as favorable to architectural effect as can be expected in most cases. Of course, a corner would be preferable to an inside lot. Of course, a frontage equal to the altitude or greater would be an advantage. The Park Row has a frontage of 100 feet on the street from which it is named, and this frontage comprises its architecture, with the exception of an L emerging on Ann street, an L some fifteen feet wide by twenty-seven stories high. If this were a square tower it might be a very noble object. But it would be hard to make a noble object of a mere annex of these extravagant proportions to a massive building. Moreover, the corner of the street upon which the annex gives is not a right angle, but an acute angle, and the distance at the rear where the "postern" occurs, is much less than at the front. It is an awkward "lay out," but, upon the whole, by no means so awkward as the lay out of the St. Paul, with its truncated angle. In that case the architect's difficulties have not received consideration enough from most of his critics, who have contented themselves with finding that the result was a failure.

The architectural problem of the Park Row, as the architect has conceived it, is in effect limited to the treatment of a front 100 feet wide by 400 high. Except this, it is only the fifteen feet front of the L that can be said to be designed. The rest, the great cliffs of flanking wall, is left to take care of itself. Of these walls the southern is by far the more conspicuous, and it is conspicuously awkward on account of the attachment, at an obtuse angle of the connection with the side street. One cannot, perhaps, blame the architect, under the conditions of commercial building, for not having "done anything" with this wall. If it were a real wall, it would, of course, with this enormous height, require a visible buttressing, if not a visible thickening from the top downwards. Seeing that it is only a thin brick screen hung to a steel frame, either buttressing or terracing would have been meaningless and absurd. What would have been significant and rational was an indication that this expanse of brickwork was not the construction, but the envelope of the construction. For such an indication we look, as usual, quite in vain. The expanse is absolutely inexpressive and vacuous, except for the metal girders that span the recess provided to give the inmates of the central part some allowance of light and air, even if another skyscraper should come to adjoin this at the ends. The effect of the crude expanse is somewhat mitigated and the wall rendered as little conspicuous as may be, by a coat of paint assimilating it in color to the yellowish gray of the front. But this is not a substitute for design, for an arrangement of openings and a suggestion of structure which should really relieve the emptiness and meaninglessness of the expanse. It remains true that there is no architectural treatment except of the Park Row front and the face of the Ann street extension.

It is not very easy to detect the architectural motive of the front, to discover what was in the mind of the architect when he laid out his design. The usual starting point, which has come to be a convention among most designers of skyscrapers, is the division of the front into base, shaft and capital, and the execution of variations within these limits, no subsequent subdivision being allowed to compromise or confuse this primary division. In the Park Row it is impossible to make out any triple division or any primary division. In a building of this altitude, the base may properly enough be of the height of the adjoining or neighboring old buildings, that is to say, of five stories. There is in the Park Row an emphatic string course above the fifth story, and what is below this line might be assumed to be the architectural base, if the designer had not taken some pains to contradict that assumption. Above the second story there is a cornice, a complete entablature, in fact, quite as strong a horizontal member as the cornice above the fifth, if not even stronger. This cannot be called a minor division. Moreover, if we regard the first two stories as a subdivision of the first five, the first five still do not constitute an integral part of the front, or an architectural unit in themselves, although they are emphasized by a change of material, the first two stories being of granite and the following three of a light limestone as nearly as possible the same in tint. There is no rhythmical or even intelligible relation of the parts. The demarcation of the five stories from what is above merely prevents us from regarding the two stories of granite as the base, while the separate treatment of these two prevents them from counting in as only a part of the base. The result is a confusion which is incompatible with unity, incompatible with design.

If we regard the first five stories as the base, in spite of the difficulties of so regarding them, then one may say with some confidence that the ensuing sixteen constitute the shaft. But that is not made even clear, much less emphatic. It is true that an emphatic string course crosses the front above the twenty-first story, but then one equally emphatic, and equally emphasized by a projecting balcony at the centre, crosses it above the tenth. One takes the shaft to be of sixteen stories mainly because of the differentiation of the treatment of the five stories above, which are pretty plainly meant to constitute the capital. Here, as elsewhere, the subdivisions of the front are so nearly equal to the primary divisions that it is hard to tell which is which, and this gives the front an air of indecision and confusion and destroys unity.

So far of the composition vertically. In the lateral arrangement there is no confusion or uncertainty. The front is composed of three vertical strips, produced from the sidewalk to the roof, the division maintained and emphasized throughout, and pointed by the terminal cupolas, of which the three stories bring the total to an even thirty. The division is into two framing piers, kept as solid as possible, with small and inconspicuous openings, and a lighter and more open central part about equal to the two. If there were in reality or in appearance any thrust to be abutted by these flanking members, the arrangement would explain itself. But of course there is not. In reality the construction is concealed, and all this "architecture" is hung on to it. In appearance, the light and open centre is a series of superposed orders, not seeming to exert any lateral pressure. And, of course, there is no reason in the practical requirements why one opening should differ from another in importance. So that the whole arrangement stands revealed as a mere caprice, of which it can scarcely have been the object, but of which it is evidently the effect, to exaggerate by its continuous vertical lines the comparative height of a front already four times as high as it is wide.

Equally capricious is the design of the centre. The sides are of a bald and strictly utilitarian treatment, as they should be, and diversified only by the crossing string-courses, of which we have already complained as confusing the vertical division, and by balconies which still further confuse it by the infelicity with which they are placed. But the centre is of a very different treatment. It consists of no fewer than six orders, of which the lowest, enclosing the entrance, is separated, by stories treated singly, from what is above, but of which the other five are directly superposed. All but the uppermost are of free standing pilasters and the upper alone is developed into columns which, of course, is the proper arrangement if one must superpose orders. But in this case the architect by no means makes the spectator "see the necessity." Moreover, the relation of the orders seems to be quite random. Most certainly it has nothing of ordered and harmonious relation. The second, fifth and sixth, with their stilted pedestals, occupy each four stories. The third and fourth, superposed without an interval, occupy but six between them. There is no evidence of design in this arrangement. It looks entirely capricious, "without rhyme or reason," as does the disposition of the balconies, as does the relation of the centre and the sides, as does the whole front. And to say this is to say that the front lacks unity, lacks coherence, is not an architectural design.

This may be said of other works, some of them by the architect of the Park Row, which yet conquer our interest by the spirit or ingenuity of their separate features, even when the features are not combined into a countenance. But the Park Row does not make much of an appeal in this way. The detail of the orders is at the best commonplace, and those of them that are prolonged with pedestals are painfully attenuated thereby. The one feature is the entrance and its crown of huge corbels and carytids. The order of the polished granite columns between the ample antae of the piers seems inadequate in scale to its purpose. It is not made enough of. On the other hand, it may be said that the corbels are made too much of. They are certainly excessive in scale as compared with the ineffective entrance underneath. They are big and swaggering, but at least they do make an effect and are consistent with themselves, if not with their surroundings. The figures that surmount them are of limited interest as sculpture, but architecturally, as "load," they are effective, and the stiff archaic treatment adds to their architectural effectiveness. The architect has shown good judgment in standing them free, and not emulating the impossible "realism" of the St. Paul, where it has been attempted to show what would happen to a giant if he really tried to hold up a twenty-story wall. The advantage here is all with the newer building. But in the crowning feature the older takes its revenge. The crown of the St. Paul, considered by itself, is one of the best things we have in scale, so that it is effective and telling wherever it can be seen. The crowning cupolas of the Park Row are ineffectual and insignificant terminations which add nothing.

Comparisons between these latest and tallest sky-scrapers may be odious, but they are unavoidable, as the two domineering structures stand and swear at each other. Neither of them is likely to delude an architect into the belief that in rearing a sash frame of twenty-five or thirty stories, with plain brick back and sides, he will or can be adding "an ornament to the city." And that is one good result of the two extreme skyscrapers.

COMMERCIAL TENEMENT HOUSES.

Regarding the plaint of T. J. H. in your last issue, I say the greed of builders in putting too much house on too little lot is largely responsible for the damaged condition of flats and tenements after occupancy, combined with a lightness of trim, dollar doors and like money-saving first cost construction, that leaves a permanency of good condition under rental an impossibility. Take the average family of five and condense them in from three to six large closets, called "rooms." A double flat or tenement on a 25-foot lot, so common in New York, is my illustration. The centre rooms are dark, of course, therefore the family masses in the front or rear. Expect them to keep the premises in good condition, when even the builder is forced to sell them in a year, lest their bad construction become too exposed for ready sale!

The fault, I take it, is not so much with the tenant as with the builder—the owner being often the victim of misplaced confidence. And perhaps the builder is forced by circumstances to do as his fellows do, knowing better but not daring to try. If ever initiative was needed anywhere it is in the building business in New York City. In petty details, the builder allows himself latitude (in mantels, mirrors, turns in the stairs, etc.), but rarely can he be persuaded to make any radical departure. He would be a daring builder, indeed, who would build a 30 to 35-foot flat on two lots, a plot of 50x100, leaving an assured air space of 7½ to 10 feet on either side. I can see the perspiration start out on the average builder's forehead at the very suggestion, and yet it would pay. That flat would never be empty, and the tenants would be only too happy to stay in premises that were livable at an increased rent. Light and air are the rarest things to find in New York dwelling places. Every shrewd device known to man is utilized to save such slants of light as may not interfere with crowding the lot with building, and the result is, as it is—the greatest array of camping out birdcages ever known in the history of man. Mr. Editor, the tenants are average men and women, with the usual desire for neatness and order, with here and there a lazy or a slatternly one, but one and all they are overwhelmed by unfavorable conditions, and I firmly believe they do the best they can under the unfortunate living circumstances existent in New York. For owners to complain, as T. J. H., or as one did to me in characterizing his tenement tenants, "occupiers of property, no, they are destroyers of property," is to shut one's eyes to the fundamental facts in the case, of which the extraordinary wear and tear is a result, not a cause, and human nature the victim, not a delighting aggressor. I call your attention to the fact that the commercial tenement, lot worth, say, $15,000, an average price on the East Side, the building will cost about the same amount as the lot, $15,000; that the "model" tenement, so-called, built by philanthropic associations, will average double this cost, or $30,000; that the saving in the first case is in decreasing the factor of safety and of use by just skimming the edge of the too liberal building law, and in the second case the expense is in providing extra heavy construction necessary where people are packed close in living and open space for light and air. In three years' time the commercial tenement has depreciated at least 10%, the model tenement less than 2%; in ten years' time the commercial tenement has lost 50% of its value—the model tenement perhaps 10%. One has been built for a quick sale, the other for a safe investment. Were the model tenements built by men who more fully understood the needs of the dwellers therein, the problem might solve itself, but swell architects have made queer mistakes in design that have made certain model tenements unattractive and unprofitable, besides errors in management by people who did not know what they were doing. Nevertheless construction and light and ventilation have usually been well attended to in the "model" houses, and the reverse in the "commercial" tenements. A real estate man has no great grief over the woes of commercial tenement house owners. As proprietors of human sardine cans they get what they deserve and they deserve what they get. If investors will buy ramshackle hives and expect everything in income over interest and taxes to be profit, then they have made a grievous error and must pay for it—that is the law of experience. Nothing excuses an investor who buys property that cannot grow old gracefully or decently and who complains always of his repair bill, his marauding tenants, his woes and troubles that are inherent in his buildings and arise largely from that cause alone. The landlord has rights, but so has the tenant, and what Mr. Landlord will not give in justice the tenant is apt to take by force. So in many cases an armed warfare exists—a state prejudicial to all good order and decency and more in evidence in New York than in any other city in the Union.

Pardon me for writing at such length, but there is at least one real estate agent in New York that believes tenants are decent and orderly and rent-paying when they have decent quarters to live in and are treated right—that is my experience.

THE MUNICIPAL ASSEMBLY

Below is a summary of the business directly affecting interests of real estate owners in the Boroughs of Manhattan, The Bronx and Brooklyn, which came before the Municipal Assembly at its meeting on Tuesday last:

The Committee on Law, to whom was referred the report of the Council in favor of establishing a commission of experts to prepare and report the Building Code as required by the Charter, reported that they believed said commission to be necessary, and recommended the adoption of the resolution of the council as given in the Record and Guide of July 2d. It was moved to amend the resolution to read: "Commissioners of Buildings of the Boroughs of Manhattan and Bronx," after the word "Engineer" and after the word "Council" the words "conjointly with the President of the Board of Aldermen." The resolution with proposed amendments was recommitted to the Committee on Law.

COUNCIL—MANHATTAN AND THE BRONX.

84th street, between East End avenue and the river, changing grade. Referred to Committee on Streets and Highways.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN—BROOKLYN.

Chestnut street, between Jamaica avenue and Etna street, restoring gas lamps and lowering manholes. Decided in the affirmative.

40th street, between 6th and 7th avenues, laying water mains. Referred to Board of Public Improvements.

CAPITALIZATION AND VALUATION OF RAILWAY PROPERTY.

From advance sheets of the annual report of the Interstate Commerce Commission it appears that on June 30, 1897, the amount of railway capital outstanding in the United States was $10,635,008,074, which, assigned on a mileage basis, shows a capital of $59,620 per mile of line. The amount of capital stock was $5,364,642,255, of which $4,367,056,657 was common stock, and $997,585,598 preferred stock. The amount of funded debt was $5,270,365,819. The classification of funded debt shows that it consists of mortgage bonds, $4,539,911,595; miscellaneous obligations, $430,718,303; income bonds, $259,847,154, and equipment trust obligations, $39,888,767. The amount of capital stock paying no dividend was $3,761,092,277, or 70.10 per cent. of the total amount outstanding. The amount of funded debt, excluding equipment trust obligations, which paid no interest, was $867,950,840. Of the stock-paying dividends, 5.37 per cent. of the total stock outstanding paid from 1 to 4 per cent., 6.53 per cent. outstanding paid from 4 to 5 per cent., 5.99 per cent. outstanding, from 5 to 6 per cent., 3.58 per cent. outstanding, from 6 to 7 per cent., and 4.62 per cent. outstanding, from 7 to 8 per cent. The total amount of dividends was $87,110,599, which would be produced by an average rate of 5.43 per cent. on the amount of stock on which some dividend was declared. The amount of mortgage bonds paying no interest was $615,259,989, or 13.55 per cent.; of miscellaneous obligations, $37,345,879, or 8.67 per cent., and income bonds, $215,344,972, or 82.87 per cent. The amount of current liabilities outstanding on June 30, 1897, was $578,501,635, or $3,156 per mile of line.

The Real Estate Market

Real Estate Market.

The business of the private sales' market this week does not call for special comment. The transactions are fairly well distributed. This was another dull week in the auction market. With few exceptions, the circumstances attending the sales were without interest. No. 18 West 70th street was sold to an outsider after considerable bidding. The most important offering was "The Grenoble" Hotel on the southwest corner of 7th avenue and 57th street. There was only one bid, and it is presumed that the plaintiff was the buyer. There were two withdrawals—a parcel on Kelly street, by Peter F. Meyer, and No. 141 West 22d street, by William Kennelly. The latter parcel having been sold at private contract. There were no adjournments beyond next week.

REAL ESTATE NOTES

Bernhard Galewski, the well-known real estate operator, has returned to town, having spent a five weeks' vacation at Tannersville.

J. Scott, real estate broker, who met with an accident in May, is now able to walk, and left this week for a three weeks' stay at Asbury Park.

NOTES.

The T. New Roofing and Manufacturing Co. have made an assignment to William H. Stewart.

Comptroller Coler says the New York City improvement fund is applicable to assessment improvements in all the boroughs even if they were commenced prior to consolidation. Many improvements which have been delayed in Brooklyn for lack of funds will not be continued.

At a joint session of the Council and Aldermen the report of the Finance Committee approving the budget as prepared by the Board of Estimate was passed, and the tax rate for the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx was fixed at $2.01 on real and personal property assessments.

Fourth avenue, between 9th and 14th streets, is evidently in line for general improvement. Recent building in that part of the thoroughfare indicates what is coming.

WAR TAX QUERIES.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Kindly print form of receipt in your next issue that will not require a stamp.

Answer.—New York, September 1st, 1898. Received of John Doe ten dollars, rent. Richard Roe.—Law Editor.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Having read the War Tax Queries in August 20th number, we beg to ask if a receipt made out like enclosed is subject to the stamp tax: "New York, August 1st, 1898. Received from John Doe the sum of Twenty Dollars in payment of rent due August 1, 1898. for 2d floor east, house in 121 E. 61st Street. $20.00."

Answer.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that such a form is taxable. He has also decided that receipts for monthly rent where no duly executed lease exists are taxable.—Law Editor.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I have sold some houses subject to a first mortgage of $8,000 on each of the four houses, the mortgages to be recorded in a few days, after which the deeds will be delivered. (1) Must I put revenue stamps to the full amount of mortgage, and also in a few days do the same thing again to the full amount of the value of the property, which is virtually paying double tax? (2) Can I recover from the United States in case decisions in the courts are made more just to the property-owner?

Answer.—(1) Yes. (2) No.—Law Editor.

Questions and Answers.

COMMISSION ON LEASE OF APARTMENT HOUSE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Your indefinite reply to my query of last week is noted. I did not put the matter quite as strongly as I might have done. To summarize: A broker secures a lessee for a large apartment house, who agrees with the owner on the annual rental to be paid (nearly $20,000), and offers satisfactory real estate security to the amount demanded by the owner. His references are also satisfactory, and a day is set to close the deal. The owner postpones the closing from day to day, and finally declines to close the matter and withdraws his property, basing his action on his fear and belief that the proposed lessee did not possess capacity enough to manage the property successfully, although the said lessee furnished good references as to his ability and experience and the owner confessed his own inability to do such managing after years of trial. Has the broker a good and just claim against the owner for his commission, or does such captious and unfounded reasoning of an owner deprive the broker of his expected reward for all his trouble? This negotiation has taken four months to complete. The sum involved as commission is $960.

Answer.—In my opinion the broker is entitled to his commission.—Law Editor.

WILL.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Kindly answer the following questions: Under the will of A, his executors are authorized to pay to his widow, out of income of estate, sufficient sums of money for her maintenance and support and the maintenance of a home for his children, such sums to be in the discretion of executors as to amount. (1) Can executors make a separate allowance for widow's personal support, and also (2) use part of income for maintaining a home for children of deceased, the widow not living with such children? (3) Have not such children the right to demand that a home be maintained for them, independent of the fact that they are able to support themselves? The estate passes to the children upon death of widow.

Answer.—The will seems to contemplate that the money for the home shall be paid to the widow, and that the widow and children shall live together. If the widow does not consent to the maintenance of a separate home for the children, I cannot advise that the executors provide such a separate home without the authority of the Court. I am of the opinion that the Court would grant them leave to do so.—Law Editor.

COMMISSION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly answer the following in your next issue: An owner goes into a broker's office, of his own free will, and gives him a piece of property to sell at a stated price. If the broker produces a purchaser within 48 hours who is able and willing to purchase the property at the stated price, is the broker lawfully entitled to his commission, provided the owner has not notified him that the price has been changed or the property withdrawn from the market, until the broker presents the prospective buyer?

Answer.—Yes.—Law Editor.

COMMISSION ON EXCHANGE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A is a broker and has properties belonging to B and C for exchange. C agrees to exchange his lots, for cash to boot, which B agrees to give. C authorizes A to draw contracts and have B sign same; B signs contracts, and A presents same to C for his signature. C tells A to leave the contracts with him (C) as he will examine and sign same at his leisure, promising to have them ready the next day. When A calls, C tells him that the deal is off, as he (C) tried to sell the flat, and his prospective buyer failed to make an offer. Is A entitled to his brokerage? there being no mention made of any buyer for the flat outside of the transaction between B and C.

Answer.—Yes.—Law Editor.

The Building Trades

Building Material Market.

The Building Material Market shows little change from last week, it being if anything a trifle duller on account of the excessively hot weather. By far the strongest feature of the market at present is Portland cement, both foreign and domestic makes. The demand is large, while it is next to impossible to obtain supplies. Foreign makes have advanced slightly in price. Few, if any, Eastern spruce lath have been in during the week, but the inquiry for them is strong, and, although price to arrive is only $1.65 at present, an advance is looked for shortly, as manufacturers show no intention of shipping at present values. Demand in the market for both wire and cut nails is better, and prices are firmer. Wire nails are $1.45 on dock, New York, in carload lots, and $1.55@1.60 for small lots from store. Cut nails are quoted at $1.25 with shadings, for carload lots on dock, New York, and $1.30 for small lots from store. Paints are unchanged. Linseed oil is fairly steady at 33c. for 5-bbl. lots and over, and 34c. for less than 5-bbl. lots, with an addition of 2c. per gallon for boiled and refined. The volume of business is only moderately large. Out-of-town crushers quote 32c. In the market for spirits of turpentine values closed steady at 28¾c for regulars and 29¼c. for machines. Business was on a small scale. Tar was quiet at $1.85@1.90 for regulars and $3.50 for oil barrels. Pitch was dull at $1.60.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

BUILDINGS PROJECTED.

THE LAWS AFFECTING BUILDING.

There has not been any book on the market containing all the laws and regulations relating to building in New York City; yet the need of such a volume is plain enough, because a building from its foundation to its final demolition is subject not only to the building law, but to special regulations of the building department concerning passenger elevators, fire-escapes, light and ventilation and plumbing. There is also a law limiting the height of dwelling houses and another requiring temporary flooring. There are the tenement house and lodging house laws, laws relating to the extinction and prevention of fires and explosives, and the storing of combustible materials in buildings. Moreover, there are very important fire department regulations which must be observed in the installation of electrical apparatus, and there are, of course, all the regulations of the department of public works concerning Croton water rates and the use of water, the opening and refilling of trenches and restoring of street pavements; in addition to ordinances pertain- architect, builder, building material man and real estate owner must be familiar with these laws and regulations; if he is not, he suffers. They are now all gathered together (with a directory of architects) for the first time in one volume, illustrated, indexed and supplied is $2.50. Record and Guide, Publishers, 14 and 16 Vesey Street.

The first name is that of the owner; arc stands for architect, m'n for mason, c'r for carpenter and b't for builder.

When character of roof is not mentioned it is to be understood that the roof is to be of tin.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Vol. LXII. SEPTEMBER 3, 1898. 1,590

THERE has been a considerable contraction of Stock Exchange business in the past few weeks, in both stock and bond divisions of the market. In the former the reported transactions have dropped from the record maximum of 890,000 shares in one day to between 300,000 and 400,000 in one day, with the latter reports much nearer the actual total than the former. In bonds there has been a drop from $7,500,000 to less than $2,000,000 for a day's total. These changes have been made in spite of activity in a good many specialties. Considering the proportions of the shrinkage in the volume of business, the relatively small decline in prices is really remarkable, and suggests that the investment buying on the recent advance must have been very large. It is highly probable that the conservative and slow-going of the people who had money to invest, and who, it may be said, are in the majority, waited until peace had actually been arranged before making their purchases. They paid rather a heavy premium for the assurance that they might buy in safety, but if they are satisfied no one else has a reason to be otherwise. These purchases do not influence the market now, and further reaction, with advances in spots on new developments, can be more reasonably expected than anything else. As to the general situation, that is another thing. Every day makes the outlook for business better. The talk of enlargements of plants, or the consolidation of others for more comprehensive operations, that comes from so many directions, is direct evidence of the hopefulness and reviving industry and enterprise of the business community. Back of this are the good agricultural results of the year, and a universal feeling that the country is preparing for an industrial effort that will outdo anything that it has ever done before.

BUSINESS is encouraged by the Czar's invitation to the Powers to convoke a Peace Congress, without any regard to the likelihood of its acceptance, or the probabilities for failure or success of the Congress when convened. The reason why the invitation is looked upon as a favorable factor is that, as business requires peace for successful operation, and as Russia has lately been the power whose policy most threatened its infraction, a proposal for disarming coming from that quarter is naturally taken as an indication of a change of attitude which precludes danger of war for some years to come, at least. So business accepts such relief as the proposal gives with thankfulness, and renews its efforts, without troubling itself whether Count Muravieff has by this surprise outdone himself in cynicism; whether it is offered in full sincerity or not, or whether the opportuneness of disarmament to the proposer does not taint the proposition with individual interestedness. As foretold in this column two weeks ago, the preparations made there for sending gold to the United States, create no anxiety in London. Rates for money have stiffened somewhat, a movement that is not regarded with dissatisfaction in financial circles, but otherwise there is no other effect. The Bank of England makes a strong showing and the outside demands upon it are not great. Stock exchange business has everywhere been benefited by the Czar's message, for the reasons just given. The settlement of the Welsh coal miners' strike, by the acceptance of a compromise, arranged between representatives of both sides, removes a protracted obstruction to business. The Italian budget statement, recently made is an argument of the necessity of disarmament, for Italy at least. The estimates made at the opening of the financial year were for a surplus of $1,500,000; the final report shows a deficiency of $2,500,000, with expenditures of $1,800,000 for public works included in the estimates not made. Nearly $3,000,000, not provided for, had to be expended for military movements to quell the recent popular rising, and the suspension of duties on wheat, made necessary by the discontent and destitution, are estimated to have cost $2,500,000. While Argentine securities are strong in the European markets, correspondents on the ground take a very gloomy view of the financial position of the country, based on the sluggish trade and the boundary difficulties with Chili. M. Leroy Beaulieu is urging a partial adoption of the Cuban debt—that incurred prior to the last rebellion—by the United States, a suggestion not likely to be adopted, particularly in view of the unfriendliness of France, which such an arrangement would most directly benefit, during the war just closed, and in view of the fact that this country has demanded no pecuniary indemnity from Spain. The Vienna bourse has been scared by the collapse of the securities of the Austrian Arms Manufactory, which appear to have been boomed on fraudulent balance sheets and the payment of unearned dividends.

WAR TAX RULINGS.

THE following is a resumé of the rulings up to date of Internal Revenue Commissioner N. B. Scott as to the stamp tax so far as concerns dealings and dealers in real estate:

The exemption granted in the last proviso of Section 17 of the Act of June 13, 1898, to co-operative building and loan associations, etc., is confined to the stock and bonds issued by the associations therein mentioned,and, therefore,does not relieve them from stamp tax on checks, mortgages, and other instruments issued by them.—July 8, 1898.

There is no difference in the rate of taxation between that on a chattel mortgage and on a mortgage of realty.

Upon a mortgage or pledge of real or personal property for a sum exceeding $1,000 and not exceeding $1,500, a stamp of 25 cents is required, and on each $500 or fractional part thereof in excess of $1,500, 25 cents.

Each and every assignment of transfer of the mortgage, or the renewal or continuance of any agreement, or contract, by letter or otherwise, requires a stamp duty at the same rate as that imposed on the original instrument.—July 12, 1898.

Upon each and every assignment of a trust-deed or mortgage a stamp duty is required at the same rate as that imposed on the original instrument.—July 12, 1898.

The certificates of acknowledgment to deeds, mortgages, or other legal instrument, require to be stamped with a 10-cent stamp, as a certificate in addition to the stamp provided by law for the instrument itself. They are no part of the execution of the deed or mortgage, and are not covered by the stamp required upon such deed or mortgage. (This ruling was reversed July 26.)

The jurat to an affidavit does not require to be stamped.

The memorandum on the back of a deed or mortgage made by a register or recorder that the instrument has been placed on record is not a subject of taxation.—July 12. 1898.

Any receipt or instrument setting forth any terms of a lease, must be required to be stamped as a lease, unless there has been a separate lease made, in the case which has been duly stamped, in which event the receipt, though containing the terms in question, does not require a stamp. A mere receipt, given under the terms of a lease duly stamped, does not require a stamp.

A receipt given on or after July 1, 1898, though it contains reference to the terms of a lease fully executed before July 1, 1898, does not require a stamp; but it is advisable in each of these cases that reference should be made in the receipt to the lease and to the date of its execution.

There will be no liberal ruling in favor of persons interested in these and other cases under the stamp tax. The construction must be broadly in favor of the revenue to prevent evasion. —July 12, 1898.

No stamp is required on ordinary receipts.

Real estate mortgage notes require to be stamped, in addition to the stamp placed upon the mortgage.

In cases of loans on real estate, where promissory notes are given, which are not paid at maturity, but on which an extension of time or payment is granted, without the taking of a new note, every such extension is a renewal of the note within the meaning of the statute, and the requisite stamp must be affixed for every such renewal or extension.

Where a bond is given with a guaranty company as surety, the bond should have, in addition to a 50-cent stamp, as required under the head of "Bond" in Schedule A., a stamp denoting one-half of 1 cent on each dollar or fractional part thereof paid to the principal obligor on the bond as a premium, under that paragraph of Schedule A relating to guaranty companies.

Bonds "required in legal proceedings" are exempt from stamp tax. They are such as are required in litigation either civil or criminal cases, such as prosecution bonds, injunction bonds, bonds to stay proceedings, bonds upon appeal, writs of error, bonds for costs, and the like; and in criminal cases, recognizances bonds for appearance, bail bonds, and also bonds in criminal cases upon appeal, and writs of error, supersedeas bonds, etc.

Bonds given by persons appointed by the court, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of their office or position, such as receivers, assignees, executors, administrators and guardians are not exempt, and the stamp tax must be paid thereon.

A certificate of search, showing that the dockets or records of a court have been searched, and show either that liens exist or do not exist as to property, or that judgments are recorded or are not recorded, and also certificates of search to ascertain whether or not titles are good, whether taxes have been paid, and other certificates of this character are not such as are required in the general discharge of governmental functions on the part of the officer giving them, but are such as are needed for private use and private interests, and are therefore subject to the tax, as being required by law to be given when called for.

Deeds signed, acknowledged and fully executed in June do not require stamps, though delivered in July, unless, by State law, registration is necessary to pass title.

As to mortgages it is the general principle that a mortgage is not valid as such until it is admitted to registration. A mortgage, no matter what the date, should not be admitted to registration when presented on or after July 1, 1898, unless there is attached and cancelled the proper revenue stamp.

In cases where the consideration in a deed is nominal, the actual value of the property conveyed should govern the amount of the stamp required.

Original lease requires a stamp. No stamp is required on copy executed by the parties at the time of the original lease.—July 13, 1898.

A mortgage for a less amount than $1,000 does not require a stamp under Schedule A of the Act of June 13, 1898.

A deed for property the actual value of which is less than $100 does not require a stamp under this act.—July 13, 1898.

Where a mortgage is given for a sum of $1,000 or less, and, therefore, not subject to tax as a mortgage, and is not accompanied with a note or bond for the payment of the money, but contains a clause or stipulation promising to pay a certain amount, the instrument will be subject to taxation as a promissory note according to the rate provided for.—July 14, 1898.

Where a promissory note is secured by a mortgage, stamp tax must be paid on each, and the requisite stamp affixed both to the note and the mortgage.

Where a certificate of a notary public or other officer is made as to the acknowledgment or proof of execution of a mortgage, stamp tax must be paid on this certificate and the requisite stamp affixed and cancelled.

In the satisfaction of a mortgage, where a regular release is executed, sealed and delivered, it is held that this release comes under the head of a conveyance, and that stamp tax is required to be paid thereon according to the value of the interests released or conveyed by such instrument. Where, however, the local laws authorize entry of satisfaction upon the record, and the mortgage is thus cancelled, such entry does not require a stamp, as it is regarded neither as a release nor a certificate. If, however, the mortgagee, as he has a right to do in some states, makes a power of attorney to the register or recorder, or other person, for the entry of the satisfaction of the mortgage, stamp tax must be paid on the power of attorney.

The stamp necessary on a bond issued by a guaranty company, guaranteeing the fidelity of an employee is 50 cents, also one-half of 1 cent on each dollar of premium charged or fractional part thereof.—July 20, 1898.

Orders for money from owners or architects require to be stamped.

An architect's certificate requires no stamp, unless, by an indorsement, it becomes an order for the payment of money.

Where leases are executed in duplicate, so that both are original, both are required to be stamped; but if there be but one original, copies thereof are not required to be stamped.

A memorandum of sale, under the head of "Contract" in Schedule A, means only a contract; and it is this memorandum which requires the 10-cent stamp.

A statement of account, showing the receipts, and disbursements, in connection with a sale, and not being the contract of sale, does not require a stamp.

A broker's memorandum of sale of promissory notes("notes of hand") requires the 10-cent stamp.

It is held that a person is not a broker within the meaning of the second paragraph of Sec. 2 of the Act of June 13, 1898, by reason of engaging in the business of buying, selling or leasing real estate, or because of negotiating loans on real estate as an agent, where there is no sale of the securities; but that if he makes loans for himself or others, and afterwards sells the securities, this brings him within the definition of a broker in the act, and he is required to pay special tax accordingly.—July 20, 1898.

No stamp is required on a certificate of acknowledgment to a deed, mortgage, bond, assignment of mortgage, power of attorney to sell real estate, or other instrument required by the revenue law to be stamped, where such instrument has been stamped.

A 10-cent stamp is required on a certificate of acknowledgment to a deed where the consideration of the deed is $100 or less.

A 10-cent stamp is required on a certificate of acknowledgment to a mortgage where the consideration of the mortgage is $1,000 or less.

Entry of satisfaction of mortgage is not held to be a certificate.

A stamp is required on a certificate of incorporation.

A stamp is required on a certificate of a justice of the peace certifying transcript or other paper to a higher court.

A stamp is required on a certificate of probate of will.

A stamp is required on a sheriff's deed.

A stamp is required on a certificate of marriage, unless given for the purposes of the State.—July 21, 1898.

There is no provision in the act under which special tax can be held to be imposed on real estate agents, or on any person or firm for simply buying or selling real estate on commission, either for themselves or for others.

A man is a broker, under this act, who negotiates, purchases or sales of stocks, bonds, notes, etc., in the course of business; and this applies to real estate agents, insurance agents, attorneys, or any persons, or firms, who, in connection with their profession or occupation, make it a regular part of their business to negotiate purchases of stocks, bonds, notes, etc., either for themselves or others.—July 23, 1898.

A bill of sale of chattels is not taxable.—July 25, 1898.

Deeds of release of mortgages and trust-deeds are required to be stamped. If the releases are simply certificates that lien has been removed from the property, only a 10-cent stamp is necessary; but if they are instruments which recover the title to the mortgagor, they must be stamped like other deeds, the consideration being the amount released.—Aug. 5, 1898.

A receipt in the following form: Mr. John Doe (tenant) to Richard Roe, Dr., owner, to rent of flat, etc., (description), as leased for August, 1898. Received payment Aug. ...., 1898. (Signed).....; is taxable as a memorandum for the hire, use or rent of lands, a tenement or a portion thereof. The tax imposed is 25 cents. Where a receipt is given for money received as rent, and there are no other recitals on the receipt, it does not require a stamp. If the receipt contains any phrase or clause that can be construed as a contract for the hire, use or rent as aforesaid, then in such cases the receipt becomes something more than a bare receipt, and should be stamped according to its tenor and effect.—Aug. 5, 1898.

Letters of administration, letters testamentary or of guardianship, do not require stamps. Petitions for the appointment of administrators, executors, or guardians, require no stamp. Bonds of administrators, executors, or guardians must be stamped. No stamp is required on certificate of tax sale for unpaid taxes, nor on the certificate of redemption from sale.—Aug. 5, 1898.

Deeds conveying right of burial in a cemetery does not require a stamp.—Aug. 5, 1898.

On deeds of conveyance the tax should be computed upon the true value of the property conveyed.

On deeds conveying only a specified interest in undivided property, that is one-third, one-fourth, one-eighth, etc., the tax should be computed upon the actual value of the interest conveyed.

All deeds of conveyance where the value of the property conveyed exceeds $100, must be stamped. The fact that the deed is a deed of gift from husband to wife, or from wife to husband, does not exempt it from tax. Such deeds must be stamped according to the true value of the property conveyed.

In States where property cannot be conveyed directly from husband to wife, but must be conveyed by a third party, who in turn conveys to the wife, both deeds must be stamped according to the true value of the property conveyed.

A quit claim deed or a deed made to cure a defect in a previous conveyance, must be stamped in accordance with the true value of the property described in the deed.

Deeds of release executed with the forms and solemnity of a conveyance of right, title and interest in real estate, are subject to the tax provided for under the head of Conveyances, and such instruments require to be stamped according to the value of the interest released.

A certificate on the back or margin of a mortgage that the mortgage has been satisfied, requires a stamp as a certificate; where, however, the local laws authorize entry of satisfaction upon the records, and the mortgage is thus cancelled, such entry does not require a stamp.—Aug. 5, 1898.

Deeds and mortgages executed by a sheriff, in compliance with an order of the court, are subject to tax.

If a deed does not grant, assign, transfer or convey to the purchaser, any lands, tenements, or other realty, but only the right to burial, to erect monuments, etc., it does not require a stamp.

A tax is not imposed upon an instrument whereby the title to personal property is conveyed, but a mortgage or pledge of personal property is taxed under Schedule A of the act.

The stamp tax is required to be paid on the assignment of a mortgage at the same rate as on the original instrument, where an assignment is made of a mortgage by a separate written instrument, and the mortgage and instrument are deposited with a trustee as security for obligations, the stamp tax must be paid on the memorandum of the pledge of these instruments at the rate fixed by the paragraph relating to Mortgage or Pledge.

Where a mortgage is deposited with a trustee as security for obligations without any assignment, but accompanied by a power of attorney, authorizing an assignment in the event of a default upon the obligations, the stamp tax is required to be paid on the pledge of the mortgage, and also on the power of attorney, but not on the transfer authorized until the transfer is completed.

Mortgages received by a State from persons to whom State lands may be sold, are subject to the stamp tax.

Abstracts of title do not require to be stamped.

Deeds of release of mortgages and trust-deeds require to be stamped. If the releases are merely certificates that a lien has been removed from the property, only a 10-cent stamp is necessary; but if they are instruments which reconvey the title to the mortgagor, they must be stamped like other deeds, the consideration being the amount released.

Where local laws authorize entry of satisfaction upon the record, and the mortgage is thus cancelled,such entry does not require a stamp. If the mortgagee, as he has a right to do in some States, makes a power of attorney to the register or recorder, or other person, for the entry of the satisfaction of the mortgage, stamp tax must be paid on this power of attorney.

A mere reference in a rent receipt to an existing lease, duly executed, will not be construed as a new lease.

Powers of attorney, executed abroad and used in this country, require stamping.

Powers of attorney and proxies for the purpose of voting the stock of building and loan associations, which make loans only to their stockholders, are required to be stamped; where, upon one power of attorney or proxy, a number of shareholders join in appointing a certain person to vote their stock, one stamp is sufficient.—Aug. 16, 1898.

Deeds, mortgages, leases and powers of attorney, which were executed and acknowledged previous to July 1, 1898, but not delivered until said date, or thereafter, are subject to taxation if delivered on or after July 1, 1898.

The Assistant Attorney-General of the United States has advised this office that mortgages, no matter what the date, should not be admitted to registration when presented on and after July 1, 1898, unless there is attached and cancelled the revenue stamps provided for the amount of the mortgage, and, in compliance with this advice, this office holds that mortgages, presented after July 1, 1898, for record require to be stamped.

Deeds, leases and powers of attorney which were executed, acknowledged and delivered, and were in full force and operation previous to July 1, 1898, do not by law require to be stamped, unless there is some local statute requiring recordation as an element of validity.

An instrument that vests title is subject to taxation, and if it is a deed where the consideration is love and affection, it should be taxed according to the actual value of the property conveyed, and vested.

Under trust-deeds, the taxation is in proportion to the actual value of the property.

A deed made to correct errors or supply omissions in a previous deed, is required to be stamped in the same amount as would be required on the deed corrected.

A deed terminating a trust and revesting title should be stamped according to the amount required on the trust-deed that is released or terminated.

If part of the principal of a mortgage has been paid, and the mortgage is then assigned, the assignment is taxable according to the amount of the mortgage unpaid, but there should be some direct evidence of the reduction on the record; otherwise the assignment, as far as the record is concerned, would be for the principal amount.

The tax imposed upon the assignment of a lease should be the amount required were a lease executed for the unexpired term.

The tax imposed where realty is sold subject to a mortgage is based upon the whole value of the property regardless of any incumbrance or incumbrances that it may have.

A power of attorney in a mortgage deed is subject to a tax of 25 cents in addition to the tax imposed upon the mortgage.

A certificate of acknowledgment is not taxed in addition to the tax imposed upon the instrument to which the acknowledgment is made.

A tax of 10 cents is imposed upon a certificate of a clerk of court or other proper officer, attached to a deed, certifying to the authority and signature of a notary public, who has subscribed to the certificate of acknowledgment.

A certified copy of the records in the custody of a recorder of deeds is subject to a tax of 10 cents.—Aug. 24, 1898.

The Record and Guide is indebted to the courtesy of Mr. John E. Burns, the affable Chief Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue in the First District, for his assistance in compiling this resumé of decisions.

This suggestion is made, in reference to rent receipts: Let the owner or agent when he lets apartments make a memorandum in a book substantially as follows: "(Date.) I have this day let (description)"—no need to insert name of tenant—"for a period not exceeding one year." Signed (name of agent or owner.) Stamp this memorandum (25 cts.) and for the following year give receipts substantially as follows: "(Date.) Received this day $.... rent of (description) for the month of ..... as per memorandum duly stamped." Signed, etc. Such receipts are held not to be liable to taxation.

IN making their report to the Mayor, for the first half of 1898, the Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments outline their policy and work for this year. The latter consists chiefly in making the system of estimating and recording assessments in the several boroughs, now properly describable as various, uniform; the former in equalizing valuations and taxation throughout the consolidated city and in pursuing and discovering personal property liable to taxation, which now for various reasons evades taxation. It has been found that an area of land, in the aggregate quite large, especially in the outlying sections of Brooklyn, had not been assessed at all, and that there were many exemptions for which no reasons were forthcoming. The rule now is to be that all land shall be assessed and that exemptions shall only be allowed on proof of reason therefor, and where there is no such proof, the benefit of the doubt to go to the tax books, and not to the owner. In their instructions to the Deputy Tax Commissioners, the Commissioners draw special attention to the mandate of the Charter, to secure throughout the city equality of valuations of property for the purposes of taxation, and the assessing of all taxable property in every section. The Deputy Tax Commissioners are required to commence their work on the first Tuesday in September, and to complete it by December 31st of each year. The Tax Department is preparing for a heavy budget in 1899, probably in the neighborhood of $100,000,000, though estimates made now have little or no value, and they seem to cherish the hope that, by pursuing the policy adopted by their immediate predecessors, of increasing the personal tax valuations as much as possible, to avoid the necessity of increasing the burdens of realty unduly. The intention may be good, but it would only be a simulation of simplicity to pretend that the practical result can be other than to make real estate, and real estate in Manhattan and The Bronx, bear the increased burden of increased expenditure which consolidation has made necessary. It has been estimated that had the total budgets of the five boroughs for 1898 to be provided from an equal rate, such rate would have been 2.26 instead of 2.01 in Manhattan and The Bronx, and varying elsewhere. If next year the rate is kept as low as it is now, it will only be because assessments have been made higher, and of the two the public would probably prefer the low assessment as best for the credit of the city. The total real estate valuations of Greater New York amount to $2,464,349,677, made up of $1,694,472,365 for Manhattan, $92,714,426 for Bronx, $570,107,742 for Brooklyn, $82,683,593 for Queens and $24,371,551 for Richmond. Two per cent. on the total named would produce less than $49,000,000. If next year's budget is $100,000,000, it will require that $51,000,000 shall be raised by increased realty valuations, the tax on personal property, and such allowances as may be made by law from the Sinking Fund.

THE Board of Public Improvements has adopted the street plan for the territory annexed to New York City by the Consolidation Act of 1895, to which reference has been made in these columns from time to time since its inception. This fact will give great satisfaction to the owners of property in our great city east of the Bronx River, because now the general lines of improvement are laid down and work can go on with confidence, wherever the demands of the population require it. Moreover, this section has a scientific and practical street plan. Its execution will develop a portion of the city much more attractive in design than any other yet built up, and still one in which communications between the different parts are facilitated by the direction of the thoroughfares. Consequently everyone concerned is to be congratulated upon the auspicious way in which Eastern Bronx is thus opened to improvement.

BUILDING IN GREATER NEW YORK.

Below will be found a tabular summary of the plans entering the Department of Building during the quarter ending June 30 last, and a partial comparison with the same quarter of last year. The facts and figures contained in these tables are interesting; but, like all New York's municipal statistics, of less value than they would have been if published nearer the close of the fiscal term in which they are embraced. The comparison with the quarter of last year would have been made twice as interesting, and many times more informative of the existing conditions of the building interest in the periods compared if values of the work embraced, as well as the number of plans, had been given. The blanks following the line "Public buildings—municipal" in the first table, are painfully suggestive of the stagnation in public work brought by consolidation. Similar tables for the first quarter of the year will be found in our issue of June 25 last. Those for the second quarter are:

WAR TAXES.

The letter given below was addressed to Chas. H. Treat, Collector of the Second District of New York, by J. B. Scott, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, at Washington, under date of Aug. 20 last. It was an answer to Mr. Treat's question, whether the case of the United States vs. Griswold would modify the ruling of the Department as to the tax on conveyances? The case, as presented to Mr. Scott, will be found stated in our issue of Aug. 20, and his response must be taken to dispose of the question treated; it was as follows:

Your letter of the 17th inst., in reference to the ruling of this office, that on sale of property the tax should be estimated on its full value, including the mortgage and equity sold, is received.

In reply I have to say that the ruling is based upon the uniform ruling of this office, which was enforced during the entire period of the operation of the former law, which is as follows:

"A conveyance of realty sold subject to a mortgage should be stamped according to the consideration, or the value of the property unincumbered. The consideration in such case is to be found by adding the amount paid for the equity of redemption to the mortgage debt. The fact that one part of the consideration is paid to the mortgagor and the other part to the mortgagee does not change the liability of the conveyance."

The dictum in the case of the United States against Griswold. 8 Fed. R. 556, is not considered binding by this office, as it was given long after the law was repealed, and evidently without consideration of the matter with regard to its revenue importance to the United States. The decision referred to was rendered by the Circuit Court in Oregon.

A ruling of this office, which was uniformly adhered to during ten years of the successful administration of the law, will not be lightly set aside.

There appear to be some real estate men who are still uncertain as to the position of the Internal Revenue Department toward receipts for rents. To enlighten them it may be well to state again the principle laid down by the Department to guide District Collectors and the form of rent receipt, containing most details the Department has decided not to be taxable. The principle laid down is: "Where a receipt is given for money received as rent, and there are no other recitals in the receipt, it does not require a stamp. If the receipt contains any phrase or clause that can be construed as a contract for the hire, use or rent, as aforesaid, then in such cases the receipt becomes something more than a bare receipt, and should be stamped according to its tenor or effect." A form of receipt decided to be non-taxable is the following:

New York, ..., 189....

Received from ..... dollars for ..... months' rent in advance, for ..... No. .... St., due 1st inst. .....

Besides this, simple receipts stating that so much money was received from So-and-so, for rent, dated and signed, have been passed as non-taxable. In effect the ruling of the Department now stands that a receipt for rent for certain premises for a certain term, with no other recitals, does not require a stamp.

A Washington press dispatch, dated 30th ult., states that in answer to inquiries the Commissioner of Internal Revenue has held that there is no provision of law for the redemption of documentary revenue stamps. In cases, however, where stamps have been used on instruments not requiring stamps, or where through error a stamp of a greater denomination than required by law has been used upon an instrument requiring a stamp, the amount paid for the stamp may be refunded. This ruling is not extended to any case where the instrument would have required the stamp had it been delivered to or accepted by the party for whom made.

CORRESPONDENCE.

COMMERCIAL TENEMENT HOUSES.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

The communication in the Record and Guide of the 27th ult., headed "Commercial Tenement Houses," and signed "A Real Estate Agent," purporting to answer a letter of the 20th ult., in your issue, is as unique as it is amusing.

The original letter said nothing whatever of "East Side tenements," but spoke particularly of "flats" and really referred to the flat-house district north of 59th street and west of the Park—though the facts hold good, as stated, all over the city.

Just why tenants hiring these "sardine cans" should be commended for their destructive and slovenly ways is yet to be explained, even by this "Real Estate Agent."

The fact still remains and is not denied by any real estate man (of experience) in this city, that a vast number of tenants of the present day do not recognize any obligation to be either cleanly, careful in their rooms or prompt in paying their obligations—and this is putting it mildly.

That the "average tenants have the usual desire for neatness" may be true, but that the greater part of them are willing to exert themselves to acquire it—is not true. The modern ideas of housewives are not conducive to good housekeeping, and the propensity of families of moderate means to live beyond their incomes, are more logical explanations of their misfortunes(?) than that of "Dollar doors" or "light trim," as our "Real Estate Agent" concludes.

It is quite certain that the destructive, precocious, badly brought up children would be quite as ready to whittle on "rosewood trim" as on "oak," but whether the "air space" of "7½ feet, or 10 feet around the building" would induce tenants to pay what they justly owe, is a debatable question, though our "Real Estate Agent" seems to have no doubt on the subject whatever.

From what I have seen of "model" tenements (which your correspondent seems to think the panacea of all ills) I have noted that they are just as badly treated by occupants as are ordinary flats, and the failure to pay rent is just as prevalent there as elsewhere. Even your "model" house does not escape the throwing of ashes, cans, garbage, etc., into sewer receptacles, and the breaking of fixtures, glass and marring of paper and paint, both wilfully and carelessly, is quite as general there as elsewhere.

Still, if your correspondent is so sanguine of his pet idea—of a 30-foot house on a 50-foot lot, etc.—and is so sure that "that flat would never be vacant" and "tenants only too happy to stay" in such premises, "at an increased rent," then surely, here there is a chance for this modern Solomon to demonstrate his wisdom to the rest of the real estate world, by experience. There is a large field open to him in this city.

However, since the authorities still continue to require that taxes be paid on the buildings with "dollar doors" and "light trim," just as they will on this elysium house "30 feet on 50 feet," it follows that the unfortunate owner of the former has still the right to require that a proper remedy be given him against wilful destruction of his property by tenants and their failure to keep their agreements.

But, I doubt if "Real Estate Agent's" letter deserves all this attention since "having no great grief over the woes of tenement owners" and deriding all tenements and flats not complying with his visionary theories, it is probable from his high ideals that he has never owned nor deigned to sell (as agent or broker) such flat or tenement, nor has he condescended to rent any apartments, except, of course, "30 feet on 50 feet," and as these are indeed rare, as yet, it is evident that this "Real Estate Agent" must be an "Agent" of very limited experience and does not know whereof he speaks.

Regretting, Mr. Editor, that I have intruded so much on your

FIRE MAP OF MANHATTAN AND THE BRONX FOR 1897

This map was prepared to accompany the report of the Fire Department for 1897, and the main fact it presents, the extremely small loss compared with extent of area, number of buildings and the value of the latter and their contents in each of the 14 fire districts, is a splendid testimony to the efficiency of the Department and has a direct bearing on values in the two boroughs.

space in answering that irrelevant letter, I am, with thanks for your courtesy, Truly yours, T. J. H.

A "SPECIAL" FROM CUBA.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Dear Sir.—Among the many well-known New York men who have done good work while on the U. S. S. "Yankee," manned by the New York Naval Reserve, the real estate fraternity is well represented, among whom are W. Butler Duncan, No. 26 Cortlandt St.; E. S. Willard, No. 26 Cortlandt St.; C. S. Folsom, of John S. Folsom, Bible House; Edwin Q. Bell, of Geo. R. Read, No. 10 Wall St.; Geo. F. Gilmore, of James L. Libby & Son, No. 305 Broadway; J. Harper Skillin, of Warren & Skillen, No. 96 Broadway; R. A. Hunter, of Fred Zittel, No. 266 Columbus Av. The market at present here is very quiet, but there is plenty of property, and the prospects are good.

Very sincerely, "A YANKEE."

Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, Aug. 23, 1898.

The Real Estate Market

Real Estate Market.

In the private sales' market the usual run of business was done. If it showed any peculiarity worthy of remark it was in the demand for land for improvement. Not necessarily vacant land, but oftenest what are known as old buildings, which are really bought for the land they stand upon because of its fitness to carry modern structures calculated to pay. A movement that has not received all the attention it deserves, is that on upper Third avenue, to which particular reference is made in another article and in our news items. Title to the Beard Building on Liberty street passed yesterday. This would be an important item if it were not apparent that it is not an out-and-out sale, although, according to established custom, the principals refuse to say what the exact transaction is.

The following are the comparative tables for the New York Conveyances, Mortgages and Projected Buildings for the corresponding weeks of 1898 and 1897:

The auction market this week was made up of 12 foreclosure offerings. Of these five went to plaintiffs, four were withdrawn, the sales of two were adjourned and one small parcel went to an outsider. Practically there was no market in the proper sense of the word. The withdrawals were: No. 49 Convent avenue, No. 25 East Washington place and a plot on the east side of Park avenue, 51 feet south of 81st street. The only adjournment to a date beyond next week was that of No. 510 Broome street, which is now announced to be sold on the 16th inst.

Attention is called to the announcement of the Labor Day lot sale, on the Jane Robert estate, by Jere. Johnson, Jr., which will be found in our business pages. Brooklyn lots have been very popular of late, especially where, as is the case in question, the location is good, terms reasonable and titles are insured.

REAL ESTATE NOTES

Operation of cars on the Sixth avenue underground electric surface road was begun yesterday, only 37 days after the work of taking up the old horse-car tracks was begun.

The underground trolley is to be put on the Third Avenue Railroad, and spokesmen for the railroad company say work will be finished on the main line in 60 days after it is begun, on the 125th street line in 90 days and elsewhere before snow flies.

T. C. Clarke, Consulting Engineer, Third Avenue Bridge, says that the inconveniences now existing upon the new Third avenue bridge are due to the fact that the structure is being used in an unfinished state. When the broad approach from 128th street, which is to be finished this year, is completed, these inconveniences will disappear.

The Hudsonbank Gymnasium and Playground, on the Stryker Estate, at 53d street and 11th avenue, the first public outdoor gymnasium founded in this city, has been opened under the auspices of the Outdoor Recreation League, which organization intends to have similar places of exercise and recreation for the rising generation founded in the various parts of the city where they are most needed.

Broker Martin Walter states that since peace has been assured he has had more inquiry for property in The Bronx than at any time this year. He also says that the approaching completion of the new Third avenue bridge, and of a system of running through trains on the Third avenue "L," from the Battery and City Hall to Tremont, which have long been under way, have brought investors, builders and home-seekers to The Bronx, not only from Manhattan, but from Brooklyn as well.

THIRD AVENUE ABOVE THE HARLEM.

The story of vacant shops and falling rents in 3d avenue, from Cooper Institute to the Harlem shopping district, is familiar to all who have followed the fortunes of East Side realty. There is one part of the thoroughfare, however, that bears an unmistakable air of prosperity, namely, that part which lies north of the Harlem River, particularly between 139th street and Tremont. The stretch from the bridge to 139th street is not precisely unprosperous—it contains several new, though cheap, business buildings—but the character of the side streets, which are given over largely to factories and yards, does not warrant such costly nor as many improvements as are to be found further north. Above 139th street, for a couple of miles, at least, the avenue presents a thoroughly metropolitan aspect, being compactly lined with more or less modern stores and flats, while the nearer one approaches Tremont, after leaving Rose street, the more apparent does the activity of the builder become. The "To Let" sign is rarely seen, and rents are high. In fact, it is a common remonstrance with shopkeepers who contemplate moving into the borough from Manhattan, that rents in the neighborhood of 150th street are as "high as they are in Harlem."

The prosperity of the avenue is, of course, in the last analysis, due to causes that affect the borough as a whole. But a very important local factor has been the single fare on the Manhattan Elevated Railway from Tremont to the Battery, which went into effect in 1894. Of less, though appreciable, effect has been the more recent development of the system of express trains. The saving which resulted to passengers from the single fare was equivalent to a reduction of some $30 a year in house rents to every breadwinner employed in Manhattan and living in the territory served by the Suburban Railway. A heavy immigration of small householders from below the Harlem immediately followed, and with an increasing population in the side streets, the demand for business properties on the avenue became, as a matter of course, proportionately insistent. At present the avenue, for blocks north and south of 150th street, is a typical shopping district, and presents as great a variety of shops, including great department stores, as can be found in Harlem.

As already indicated, the lower part of the avenue, going north from 139th street, is pretty well built up. But from Rose street to Tremont we find a large number of new buildings under way. Andrew Kitchen is erecting a 5-story store and flat house on the east side of the avenue, north of Rose street, while Schmuck & Montag are building four similar structures on the southeast corner of Teasdale place. On the southwest corner of 165th street five 5-story flats, with stores, are being constructed by Mrs. Mary Schafer. Ten similar improvements, besides a 5-story brick bottling establishment, all owned by the Henry Zeltner Brewing Co., are nearing completion at the northeast corner of 170th street. Linton B. Matthews has five new 4-story flats and stores on the northwest corner of St. Paul's place; four 5-story flats and stores on the east side of the avenue, north of 171st street, belonging to Charles Brogan, are halfway up; Jerry Altieri is putting the finishing touches to a handsome 5-story brick flat with stores on the southeast corner of Wendover avenue; excavations are in progress on the corner diagonally opposite; Charles Trueman is building two 5-story flats and stores on the west side of the avenue, north of 172d street; and Linton B. Matthews is putting in the cellar for two similar houses north of 173d street. The estimated cost of these improvements is $759,000.

COPIES WANTED.

We will pay a liberal price for copies Nos. 253 and 930 of the Record and Guide, delivered at our office in good condition.

TRADE NOTES.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER.

We argue that spring hinges have to perform the hardest duty of any hardware; not only do they carry the weight of a door, and suffer the wearing friction of constant usage, but besides, must automatically close it. This being admitted, the importance of using a durable spring hinge fully able to do its work is apparent. Bommer Spring Hinges, manufactured by Bommer Brothers, Nos. 351 and 353 Jay street, Brooklyn, N. Y., are the best. They combine great durability with a pleasing exterior, which blends harmoniously with any style of decoration, and cost no more than other kinds. They are made of wrought steel and, says the World's Fair Award, are "practically unbreakable."

TERRA COTTA LUMBER.

The Pittsburg Terra Cotta Lumber Co. have added to their works one at East Palestine, O., where they intend making only fire-clay tile. This with the works they now have at Port Murray, N. J., and Pittsburg, Pa., gives them the largest production of any company in the hollow tile, or porous terra-cotta fireproof business, and enables them to reach North, South, East and West with the lowest freight rates obtainable.

The Record and Guide has prepared a large volume of 500 pages, containing all the laws and regulations relating to buildings. The contents include The Building Law (Greater New York Charter provisions); Law Limiting the Height of Dwelling Houses; Regulations of the Building Department concerning Passenger Elevators, Fire-escapes, Light and Ventilation; Regulations for Plumbing, Water Supply, Drainage, and Ventilation; Fire Department Regulations for the Installation of Electrical Apparatus; Tenement and Lodging-House Laws; Regulations of the Department of Public Works; Inspection of Steam Boilers; Police Department Ordinances pertaining to Buildings; Laws relating to the Extinction and Prevention of Fires, and Explosive and Combustible Materials in Buildings; State Factory Inspection Law; and the new Mechanics' Lien Law. These Laws are minutely cross-indexed so that reference to them is as easy as to a dictionary. Illustrations are used wherever necessary. The book also contains a Directory of Architects. This is the only complete volume of the kind on the market. It is absolutely indispensable to architects, builders, real estate men, property-owners, and all who are in any way interested in real estate. The work has been edited by Mr. William J. Fryer. Price, $2.50, cloth. Orders received at the Record and Guide Publication Offices, 14 and 16 Vesey street.

The Building Trades

Building Material Market.

There were few new features in the building material market this week. The volume of trade was approximately the same as for the previous week, the continued hot weather exercising a somewhat restraining influence. In detail: Brick.—The arrivals of Hudson River brick amounted to 53 barges. Fifty-five barges have gone out, exhausting the left-overs. The demand is good and prices are $4.75 and $5.25 with specials as high as $5.50. Pale brick are in small supply, but good demand at $3.75@4.00. New Jersey brick are firm at $5.25. The call is fairly strong. Lime.—Some 10 or 12 cargoes of Rockland lime have come in during the week. The demand was fully sufficient to absorb the entire supply at 70c. for common, and 80c. for finishing. Lath.—Eastern spruce lath have arrived to the extent of 3,000,000 or 4,000,000. The market has been cleaned up at $1.60@1.65. Nails.—The market for both cut and wire nails is unchanged both as to general conditions and prices. Paints.—Both red and white lead are in slightly better demand. Colors remain about the same. Oils.—Linseed oil is unchanged at 33c. for raw, and 34c. for boiled and refined. Inquiry is very moderate. Naval Stores.—Spirits of turpentine at the close was steady at 29½c. for regulars and 30c. for machines. Both tar and pitch were unchanged. Glass.—A Pittsburg dispatch states that Capt. J. B. Ford is building a large plate-glass plant near Pittsburg.

OF INTEREST TO THE BUILDING TRADES.

Lewis H. Voss, architect, has moved from No. 350 Fulton street, Brooklyn, to No. 65 De Kalb avenue.

It is said that contracts to equip the Third avenue surface system with electric motive power have been prepared and that some of them have been signed.

Captain George M. Butte, of the First New Jersey Volunteers, dropped in on his friends at the Building Trades' Club from Camp Alger this week. He has been ordered to Porto Rico.

Th. Englehardt, No. 905 Broadway, Brooklyn, is preparing plans for a brewery to be erected by the North American Brewing Co., at Ridgewood. Details have not yet been determined.

James R McAfee, No. 71 8th avenue, secretary of the Employers' Association of Roofers and Sheet Metal Workers, will return on Tuesday from a two weeks' stay at Centreville, Sullivan Co.

The following is a statement of the number of permits granted for new buildings and alterations in Brooklyn during last month, and the estimated cost of the same: Brick buildings, 126; frame buildings, 228; total buildings, 354; alterations, 160; total number of permits, 514. Estimated cost of brick buildings, $1,018,200; estimated cost of frame buildings, $521,150; total cost of buildings, $1,539,350; estimated cost of alterations, $189,414; total estimated cost of all work in August, $1,728,764; total estimated cost of same for August, 1897, $1,213,832; excess in favor of 1898, $514,932.

The well-appointed rooms of the Building Trades' Club are proving very attractive to members during the heated term, possessing, as they do, all the advantages in the way of light and air, which attach to the top floor of a modern skyscraper situated on a corner lot and looking into a city square. During the noon hours, namely from 11:30 to 2:30, the club is alive with the bustle of the dining-room. The popularity of the club as a meeting place for members at luncheon is due in a very appreciable degree to the excellent cooking and service provided under the efficient management of Steward Linneman, and to the circumstance that the restaurant is conducted, not with a view to profit, but with a view to habituating members to spend their leisure at the club.

Justice Beekman, of the Supreme Court, has denied the motion of Rafael E. Boitel for an injunction to restrain ex-Gov. Levi P. Morton from tearing down No. 114 Nassau street, Nassau Chambers. Boitel is the lessee of space for a cigar-stand on the ground floor at an annual rental of $800. Mr. Morton's representatives offered Boitel $1,000 for the surrender of his lease. Boitel, however, demanded $3,000, and a twenty-year lease of quarters in the new building at the same rent as formerly. In denying the motion for the injunction Justice Beekman says that, while Boitel is clearly within his rights under his lease in remaining where he is, notwithstanding the exigencies of the case, Mr. Morton, who disclaims any intention of interfering with him in his possession of the store, has the right to remove the other portions of the structure. Should the rights of Boitel be in any way infringed or any injury done to his store, application for the injunction may be renewed.

Attention has been called in this paper to the necessity for a stricter enforcement of the law against unlicensed plumbing. In order to enlist the active support of the public in support of the law, it may not be amiss to recall the fact that a plumber cannot, in a court of law, collect a claim for work done unless he has registered with the Building Department and the Board of Health, and has a certificate of competency from the Examining Board of Plumbers. The double registry, with the Board of Health and the Building Department, dates from 1892. The general plumbing law of that year gave the Health Board supervision of matters relating to plumbing. But in an act passed at the same session of the Legislature the New York Building Bureau was taken from the Fire Department and reorganized as an independent department. The jurisdiction over plumbing was removed from the Health Board to the new Building Department. But the Building Law omitted to repeal that section of the plumbing law which relates to registry with the Board of Health.

Questions and Answers.

ENCROACHMENT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please decide same in next issue if possible: A bets that if B's property encroaches 4 inches on A's property, said encroachment to be a brick wall, that A can make B remove same; encroachment to be there at least two years.

Answer.—He can.—Law Editor.

REPAIRS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Is a tenant required to replace glass in door which has been broken by slamming of door due to wind? Lease does not cover point in question.

Answer.—Yes. Ordinary repairs are to be made by the tenant. —Law Editor.

WIFE GIVES HUSBAND POWER OF ATTORNEY.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Kindly inform me what should be done in this case: A young married woman has a business, but lets her husband run it and have power of attorney for all transactions; later he consolidates with another company and is given shares and paid a salary. The wife did not want it done, but could not do anything; now I would like to know if the husband still has the power of attorney? What would she do to break his power, seeing she is not interested now, and act for herself in the future?

Answer.—I cannot answer this question definitely as the exact terms of the power of attorney are not given. I doubt if they are comprehensive enough to give the husband the legal right to do what he has done. If they are not, the wife may sue to recover back her business.—Law Editor.

COMMISSION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A had an advertisement in a paper advertising flats for sale or to exchange; so B told A that he had lots to trade for the flats. These lots did not suit. B went to another broker and gave him the full particulars and the name of owner of the property; so he (broker) went direct to the owner, and, offering him some lots to exchange for the property which B has given to him, without notifying B that he has made a proposition to the owner himself. I would like to know if A and B are entitled to half part of the commission or not?

Answer.—Not unless there was an agreement to that effect.—Law Editor.

SCHOOL-HOUSE VERSUS FLAT-HOUSE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Would you kindly answer in your paper if a school is built opposite a piece of property, same being a flat house, would it injure or improve it?

Answer.—We cannot answer this question definitely unless we know the location of the property. Generally it is understood that a schoolhouse opposite a flat impairs the value of the latter. —Editor Record and Guide.

DAMAGES.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Firstly: I occupy a two-story frame house. A short time ago I repainted my house. Now a party has built a large four-story building up to my line. In doing so he has marred and disfigured my house so that I will have to repaint it. Have I any redress? Secondly: When they got to my top line of building they found the moulding in their way so that they turned up the tin and broke it so that I had to employ a tinsmith to repair it to save my ceilings. Can I charge that to them? Thirdly: When building the walls above my house they let several bricks fall on my roof and made several holes, so that the next rain that came came through and spoiled my two ceilings. Please advise me what to do.

Answer.—1. You can sue him for damages. 2. If your moulding projected over the adjoining lot, they had a right to remove it, as to that extent you were the trespasser, and you cannot charge the expense to them. 3. You can sue him for damages.—Law Editor.

MECHANICS' LIENS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Kindly answer the following question in your next issue. B files a lien against A for a larger amount than what is coming to him, B having furnished A with an itemized statement which would prove B trying to collect more than rightfully due him. Can A have the lien discharged by order of court, and if he did could B file another lien for a smaller amount?

Answer.—A can have the lien discharged, but not for the reason that the lien is for a larger amount than is set forth in the statement made by B. The lien law provides the following methods by which a lien may be discharged: 1. By the certificate of the lienor, duly acknowledged or proved and filed in the office where the notice of the lien is filed, stating that the lien is satisfied and may be discharged. 2. By failure to begin an action to foreclose such lien or to secure an order continuing it, within one year from the time of filing the notice of lien. 3. By order of the court vacating or cancelling such lien of record, for neglect of the lienor to prosecute the same, granted pursuant to the code of civil procedure. 4. By giving a bond as prescribed by the law. 5. By the payment of the money into court.—Law Editor.

BROKER'S COMMISSION

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly answer the following in your next issue. (1) A is offered a house for sale by the owner himself, and procures a purchaser who offers a certain price, which is accepted; and a day is appointed to sign contract, on which day all parties were present at the lawyer's office of the would-be purchaser, the latter having drawn $500 from the bank for the purpose of putting up a deposit to bind the bargain. In the meantime contracts had been drawn up by a friend, or the lawyer, of the seller, which were shown to the would-be buyer's lawyer and were not accepted; as the following clauses were scratched through with pen and ink: "A proper warranty deed containing full covenants duly executed and acknowledged to convey and assure to the grantee an absolute fee of said premises." I suppose it would mean: That he, the said John Brown, party of the first part, will not warrant the title to said premises. However, the lawyer for the buyer would not accept other than a warranty deed, which the seller would not give, although he has owned the said property eleven years, so the sale falls through. Is A entitled to his commission, as he was not informed that a warranty deed would not be given. (2) To claim commission in case of a sale, must a broker have a written agreement from owners?

Answer.—(1) A is entitled to his commission. (2) No.—Law Editor.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it.

The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows. The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of mortgages under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

BUILDINGS PROJECTED.

THE LAWS AFFECTING BUILDING.

There has not been any book on the market containing all the laws and regulations relating to building in New York City; yet the need of such a volume is plain enough, because a building from its foundation to its final demolition is subject not only to the building law, but to special regulations of the building department concerning passenger elevators, fire-escapes, light and ventilation and plumbing. There is also a law limiting the height of dwelling houses and another requiring temporary flooring. There are the tenement house and lodging house laws, laws relating to the extinction and prevention of fires and explosives, and the storing of combustible materials in buildings. Moreover, there are very important fire department regulations which must be observed in the installation of electrical apparatus, and there are, of course, all the regulations of the department of public works concerning Croton water rates and the use of water, the opening and refilling of trenches and restoring of street pavements; in addition to ordinances pertaining architect, builder, building material man and real estate owner must be familiar with these laws and regulations; if he is not, he suffers. They are now all gathered together (with a directory of architects) for the first time in one volume, illustrated, indexed and supplied at $2.50. Record and Guide, Publishers, 14 and 16 Vesey Street.

The first name is that of the owner; a r t stands for architect, m'n for mason, c'r for carpenter and b'r for builder.

When character of roof is not mentioned it is to be understood that the roof is to be of tin.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

MURESCO!

It is a permanently hard wall finish. Over plaster it produces soft, even tints, giving the effect of kalsomine, without the flashing, with none of its disadvantages. It does not rub off against the clothing; will not crack nor peel. It will kill suction, and give a smooth, soft, even coat over an old plastered wall that has been patched. It comes in fifteen artistic colors and white.

You may have a color card and full information about Muresco for the asking.

Vol. LXII. SEPTEMBER 10, 1898. 1,591

THE prominence given to the fight between Sugar interests and the Arbuckles and the disappointment of the speculative public over the failure of the St. Paul directors to increase the rate of dividend on the common stock have served to give impetus to the reaction in prices that has been going on quietly for a week or two. The short side of the market is now likely to attract professional attention more than the other until prices have gone down sufficiently to attract new investment buying. This movement is assisted by higher rates for money under renewed commercial demand, which such imports of gold as may be brought about by the rise in rates on this side, will not be sufficient to relieve. So far as it is influenced by the commercial demand, this rise in the rates for money is a good sign; but if, and to the extent that it is due to the accumulations in the Treasury it is not. While one thing indicates an improvement in the business and manufacturing of the country, the other is another illustration of the clumsiness of the national fiscal machinery, which is incapable of keeping money in the Treasury when it is needed there and will not let it out when it is not. It is true that the Secretary of the Treasury has power to release the money in the Treasury in certain contingencies, but as such action always interferes with the disposition of government bonds, mainly used to secure national bank issues, it generally neutralizes itself by contracting in one direction while expanding in another. We have seen the injury the evils of our treasury and currency conditions can do in times of distress, but it is to be hoped that their powers for mischief, potent as they are, will not be permitted any play now that we are on the road to prosperity.

FOLLOWING quickly upon the Czar's invitation to the Powers to attend a Peace Congress, comes the intimation that the situation in China is improved and that matters in South Africa are shaping themselves satisfactorily. The Mahommedan uprising in Crete will doubtless compel a better arrangement for the government of that island than now exists and remove another danger to the public quiet. If we could judge by appearances, which in international politics we never can do, it would seem that a Congress to secure the world's peace was unnecessary, the general policy being one of avoidance of war and a policy of lessening armament will naturally follow in due course, though probably slowly. Meantime it is becoming the general impression that the Czar's congress will never convene, or if it does it will simply do so out of courtesy to so powerful a monarch. How quickly trade improves under hopeful foreign political conditions is shown by the reports of Britain's foreign trade for last month, which records substantial increases in both imports and exports, in the latter the first increase for a long time. A blue book containing the evidence given before the Indian Currency Committee was recently issued. "The Economist," of London, in reviewing it expresses the opinion that the testimony condemns both the Government's proposition and the suggestion for the reopening of the mints to the free coinage of silver, but concludes that, "while the scheme of the Government for forcibly holding up exchange and establishing a gold standard is undoubtedly much too drastic, it is in that direction, and not in the direction of undoing what has already been done (closing the mints) that action must be taken." In a pamphlet, issued under official sanction, the financial condition of Chili for three years—1897-9—is reviewed, and shows an estimated surplus in the last budget of something like $6,500,000. Such a showing creates surprise at the recent authorization of $50,000,000 paper, to meet a crisis. Another South American state in difficulties, Brazil, is considering ways and means to keep the Government afloat financially. The Minister of Finance recommends the lease or sale of certain national properties or the raising of a loan, so that the Government may be able to obtain the gold which can alone keep it out of the exchange market. He also advises that the gold-interest on the internal loan should be converted into currency interest, that commissions for the purchase of materials in Europe should be suppressed, that the contracts for the guarantees should be "revised," and that the expenditure upon diplomatic representation should be reduced. It is also proposed that the Government should be provided with the means of withdrawing a part of the circulating medium, and that a part of the duties on exports should be collected in gold.

THE ST. JAMES.

THE St. James, not long ago erected upon the site of the hotel of the same name, at the corner of 26th street and Broadway, is one of the most interesting of the skyscrapers of the middle city, of the shopping district. It has enough neighbors of approximately equal altitude to show that it is not only in the congestion of the narrow lower end of the island that skyscrapers will pay. Although the tall buildings of the Madison Square region are as utilitarian as those of the lower island, in their design there may properly be relaxed some of the grimness of severity which is proper to the down-town scyscrapers. Something is due to the genius of the region, which is devoted not merely to business but to pleasure, and even its business is in great part that which ministers to pleasure. Moreover, a tall building erected just here, seen across Madison Square and part of the same scene with the Garden and its tower, ought to have something of gay and festive in its expression.

This, at any rate, is evidently the view that Mr. Bruce Price, the architect of the St. James, has taken of his problem, as may be seen by comparing his solution of it with that attained in the building of the American Surety Company, which we remember praising for the strictness of its conformity to the utilitarian requirements, and the refusal of the designer to make any practical sacrifices, even to what seemed essential architectural requirements. That is not only strictly a business building, but it is in a strictly business quarter, and anything of fantastic in its general aspect would be unbusinesslike and therefore in bad taste. The defects of the American Surety Building, such as they are, are not at all in this direction. If it were erected on Madison Square, however, its plainness and severity, although still appropriate enough to its specific purpose, would be in conflict with its surroundings, would be "unneighborly," while if the St. James were transplanted to Pine street its picturesqueness would be equally out of place, which goes to show that there are a great many things to be thought about in the design of a successful building.

The contrast between there two buildings is interesting in another aspect. Each of them conforms strictly to the type which has established and imposed itself as that proper to a many-storied office-building, and of which the prototype is a column with a low base, a low capital and a tall shaft, in which the stories are repeated without effort after variety or fear of monotony. It might seem that this scheme is Procrustean in its rigidity, and that the buildings constructed in conformity with it would become tiresome in their likeness to each other. The St. James and the American Surety, not only both follow the analogy of the column, but each is even more specifically, in the likeness of the "rusticated pillar" to which the architect likened the earlier. Yet we see that within the limitations abundant variety may be obtained and very widely different expressions, insomuch that two buildings designed upon the same general scheme could not be interchanged without loss, nor even without incongruity.

The area of the St. James is so ample, about 90 feet on Broadway by 110 on 26th street, that it carries even its sixteen stories without giving the sense of something gaunt and spindling which belongs to the usual skyscraper. A column, or even a rusticated pillar, of two and a-half diameters or less, makes the effect of a mass of three dimensions, and not of altitude alone. But its three parts are distinguished not only by design but also by material. Ordinarily, the aim of the projectors of skyscrapers is to produce an effect of monochrome. Even when there is in fact a change of material, the two materials are obtained as nearly as possible of the same tint, or at most one is used as "trimmings" to emphasize the other. The St. James must be nearly a unique example in these modern buildings o. the change of material, and the use of color, in order to emphasize the distinction between the principal parts of the structure. Certainly color has not been employed for this purpose in any other example in so interesting and successful a way.

The architectural basement of the building, the first two stories, is executed in a pale but warm granite. The shaft, the succeeding ten stories, is in red brick, heavily quoined in terracotta as nearly as may be of the tint of the granite of the basement, and of this the sills and lintels of the openings and the panels between them are also composed. The sill and lintel courses run through and form at each story a strong horizontal band which tends to "keep down" the fronts and gives the building the benefit of much more than its actual lateral dimension. The piers and mullions are of red brick, and this material also emerges in the space between the panels of the transverse feature formed by sills and lintels and serves to keep the pier continuous, in spite of the crossing lines. Additional horizontal lines are furnished by dividing each pier into blocks of courses, each simulating an ashlar, while between them a recessed course, what in stonework would be the joint, is formed of a single row of white brick.

The base is of two stories, equal to nearly three of the superstructure. The lower is the tall story required for shop fronts, and consists actually of the wall of plate glass, which most designers find so intractable. But it is here treated with care and success so as to give as much solidity to the basement as possible. The angle piers, though actually no wider than those above, seem much more ample since they are all of granite, whereas above they are divided between the white quoins and the red brickwork. Upon the side the show windows stand confessed, and not only confessed, but obtruded by projection, an arrangement which leaves the spectator at liberty to infer some solid supports behind them, while at the further end the treatment is even massive, a low plain arch with enough of pier outside to give it apparent abutment. In the centre of the front is the entrance, a round arch turned between a pair of columns, connected by a heavy entablature and surmounted, in the second story, or mezzanine, by a spread eagle carved in granite with much spirit and at the same time with a stiff architectural propriety. An intermediate support is also introduced, midway between the centre and the angle pier, in the form of a column of polished granite, so that each pier of the superstructure is visibly continued to the ground. From each of these columns radiates a marquee in iron and glass, and the shop front above the lower line of this is converted into a grillage of these materials. The second story, though we have called it a mezzanine, is of the full height of the stories above and consists in each bay, of a pair of round arches, with keystones carried through to the projecting and moulded string course which marks the beginning of the red and white shaft, the end of which is marked by a like enriched course above the eleventh story.

The twelfth story, pursuing the analogy of the column, is the "necking." The disposition and treatment of the openings are as in the shaft proper, except that a panel at the centre of each pier designates, not very logically or happily, the support of one of the corbels which spread to carry a platform upon which rests the capital.

This is of three stories, forming one feature; an arcade, of which each arch corresponds to a bay of the shaft, five on the front, six on the side. In each is a bow-window of two stories, which the platform below enabled the designer to project beyond the plane of the lower wall. The frames are rather richly treated in metal, painted, while the columns of terra cotta are fluted and banded and the arches richly decorated. As a foil to the richness of these and of the main cornice, a perfectly plain story of square holes is introduced between them, a detail of the abacus, so to say, and above this comes the heavily moulded cornice and the cresting which completes the building and, alone of the detail, identifies the work as that of the designer of the American Surety Building.

The general scheme is very interesting, and the building as a whole so successful that it would take many more and much worse shortcomings of detail than it shows to spoil it. In color it is the negative, so to say, of the design. That is the weak color is given to the emphatic parts of structure, and the strong, the red of the brickwork, to the mere filling, the interstices of the design. This was, perhaps, unavoidable if the contrast were to be maintained, and brick to be employed. But the introduction of a white brick, in reminiscence of a joint in stonework might and should have been avoided. The joint is recessed to emphasize its depth and secure a shadow, and then the depth is lessened and the shadow dissipated by the light color. Courses of black brick, or even of the red of the field, would have assisted the design.

The design is, of course, a simulation of an actual building of masonry, like all the other skyscrapers. It neither expresses nor except by chance betrays the actual construction of steel beams, and the reveals are of a depth much greater than is required when the masonry is a mere screen. That being so, the want of modelling is painfully felt. A little expressive moulding in the arches of the second story would have added very greatly to the richness of the basement.

We believe the bracketing out of the platform at the top of the shaft, what we have called the necking, is novel, at least in New York. It is very desirable, where it is possible, in a building in which the analogy to a column is so closely preserved, that the expansion of the capital should be included as part of the analogy. That expression is greatly facilitated by the steel construction. In the present instance, with the two architectural fronts facing the streets, it seems that it might well have been done less timidly and more unmistakably. But it has been done with sufficient emphasis to attract the attention of other designers, and it will no doubt be developed. Let us be thankful that it has been done at all, and let us, on the whole, be thankful for the St. James.

THE FORECLOSURE SALES.

RECENTLY one of the Supreme Court justices has sent a number of judgments in foreclosure to the Sheriff for collection, instead of, as is customary, to referees. The Sheriff favored one auctioneer with the business of selling the properties in default to satisfy the judgments. These circumstances naturally excited the attention of a body, who so thoroughly appreciate the necessity of keeping their eyes open to business as the real estate auctioneers. But, while perturbed, they did not know what to make of the circumstances mentioned, and an obliging newspaper man sought to solve the problem for them with the characteristic readiness and dash of his craft. He accordingly intimated in his paper that an arrangement had been made whereby all the foreclosure judgments were eventually to be sent to the Sheriff, who was to employ one specified auctioneer to sell the property, and out of it all was, of course, to come an arrangement of great pecuniary benefit to local political magnates. This statement served one good purpose. It brought out for public discussion a matter that had previously only been discussed in whispers. The principals admitted the premises but combatted the conclusion drawn therefrom. The judge who had sent the judgments to the Sheriff claims that he did so because he was authorized by law to do so and because it was a good thing to do. In such cases the county gets one-half the fee of $50 that is usually paid to the referee; and, as a referee gives no bonds and the Sheriff does, the latter is the more responsible party of the two. An agreement between the judges and the Sheriff and political powers was scouted as absurd.

However unjustified the suspicions previously referred to may be, their publication draws attention to the fact that there is a valuable branch of business that the Sheriff's office can do if it can get it against the opposition of the legal gentlemen who have hitherto acted as referees. In 1896 the number of foreclosure sales was in the neighborhood of 800 and last year 1,200; a little arithmetic will show that this business returns a large income in the course of the year to the referees, and its diversion to the Sheriff is a matter that that official could contemplate only with pleasure if it could be effected, even though he would only get half the fee allowed for selling by referees. The auctioneer's fee for selling is $15 per parcel, and this business is,as is well known, the mainstay of the auction room. The auctioneers, as a body, of course, prefer the reference system, as that allows a fair competition for and ultimate distribution of the business. The lawyers who appear for mortgagees doubtless can influence the Courts as to whether the conduct of sales shall be entrusted to referees or the Sheriff, but where such a nice plum has been shown to be within the reach of a public official there will have to be very good reasons why if it does not drop into his hands. So far as the public is concerned there is apparent no reason why the one system should be substituted for the other. There is no complaint, especially now with a legally designated place of sale and the diagram that accompanies announcements of sale, under the new rule of the Supreme Court, that the positions of either owner of equity or lien will be improved by a change; nor does there appear to be any ground under which such a complaint can be made, or if there were, that a sale by the Sheriff would produce better results than a sale by a referee. If there is an intention to make a change, or if one such should hereafter arise, it will only be to enrich the Sheriff's office and not from any desire to promote the public good. Let it be distinctly understood there is no moral purpose to be gained by a change, nor any public demand for one.

IT is very satisfactory to learn that the city authorities are at last proceeding to procure the filling in of the Kingsbridge road trench. It is about two years now since the trench was opened for an electric car track by the Third Avenue Railroad Company, under a franchise obtained after a bitter fight with the Metropolitan Traction (now Street) Railway Company. The building of the road was checked by injunction, said to have been obtained at the instigation of the defeated contestant. Since then the trench has been kept open rendering traffic dangerous and has been an eyesore to Kingsbridge road and a disgrace to the city. Now the Commissioner of Streets has notified the Third Avenue Railroad Company that if the trench is not closed within five days he will close it himself at their expense. The satisfaction that this gives is due entirely to the fact that the Commissioner has at length been induced to make a move to suppress this nuisance. It remains to be seen, however, whether he can make his threat good, or whether the trench will continue to be, as it has been for nearly two years, evidence of the city's impotence in the face of corporate power. Since the rival traction companies agreed to settle their differences, and defined their "spheres of influence" like the great powers that they are, the Kingsbridge road line has ceased to be the desired thing it once was when its building would have closed territory to a rival, and this fact may make the company that opened the trench indifferent, if not consenting to its closing.

THE closing of the holiday season and the reviving of official activity is instanced by the notice, which will be found in another column, of the intended application to the Courts for the appointment of Commissions of Estimate and Assessment in no less than 67 street opening cases. This will set in operation every such case now in the Bureau of Street Opening and is a piece of news that will doubtless gratify a great many property-owners. The hearings by Commissions, not only in street opening cases, but also in some of the small park cases, will recommence in the coming week, the schedules for which will be found in their proper place in this issue, and the proceedings to condemn sites for the new Hall of Records and the Third Avenue Bridge approach will be resumed in the week following.

ASSESSED VALUATIONS IN NEW YORK AND BROOKLYN.

The State Board of Equalization has added $188,753,109 to the assessed valuation of real estate in New York County, making the total for State tax purposes, $1,787,066,091; and to that of Kings County, $9,771,176, making its total for the same purposes $570,107,742. It will be remembered that the Tax Department of this city some time ago made a strong, though as it turns out, futile, protest against any addition being made to these valuations. As stated in these columns at the time, President Feitner addressed a letter to the State Board in which he claimed for New York and Kings counties reductions of assessed values this year instead of increases. His position was that in the rural counties the percentages of assessed valuation are not what they are stated to be, and that the percentages of New York and Kings are unfairly increased in consequence. In support of this statement he gave the percentages returned last year by a number of counties, the percentages which his Department claims should have been returned and the percentages of reduction which, in revision, these counties obtained. The figures are condensed into the following table. The reductions represented $91,748,000 of valuations, of which $88,988,000 was put upon New York City and county:

County.	a.	b.	c.	County.	a.	b.	c.
Albany	75	49	12	Montgomery	70	30	5
Broome	72	47	9	Niagara	75	42	12
Cattaraugus	73	45	9	Onondaga	85	47	22
Chautauqua	69	39	4	Orleans	80	53	17
Chemung	69	57	4	Oswego	71	40	7
Columbia	72	53	8	Rensselaer	80	45	17
Dutchess	71	55	7	St. Lawrence	84	49	21
Jefferson	83	34	20	Steuben	80	48	17
Monroe	70	45	5	Warren	80	39	17

a. Percentages of valuations said to be returned for the purpose of revision.
b. Actual percentages of valuations claimed by Tax Department of the City of New York after investigation.
c. Percentages of reduction allowed to the several counties named.

In meeting these statements and supporting their action the State Board states that proof was given to them that the assessed values in counties referred to in Mr. Feitner's letter were fully assessed. Regarding New York and Brooklyn they say in their published report:

No evidence of any kind has been presented by New York County to show the percentage of assessment to full value there, and we have sought information from every source open to us. We have compared the expressed consideration in deeds of real estate in various parts of the county with the assessments of the same property. When this method was objected to as inaccurate we had the same property appraised by real estate brokers of long experience in New York City. We have compared prices obtained on sales at public auction with the assessments of the same property. We have individually inquired of our friends and acquaintances owning real estate in New York City what they paid for it and what it was assessed for.

We have examined mortgage loans made by savings banks, limited by law to 50% of the value of the property mortgaged as security, and have ascertained the assessment of the property, and, following all these various lines of inquiry and many others, we are forced to the conclusion that if all the real estate in New York County were assessed as the law directs, at full value, the assessment of real property in that county would be nearly, if not quite, doubled.

The increase in the assessed valuation of real estate in 1897 over the previous year in New York and Kings counties was less than 3%, while the increase in the balance of the State was 12%.

The permits issued by the Building Department of New York for the year 1897 were, for new buildings and alterations, $91,860,247; for Brooklyn for 1897 the amount was $18,030,393, making a total of $109,890,640. While these figures are claimed by New York to be unreliable, they constitute the only recorded evidence of the value of such improvements, and, though the amount may be in excess of the actual cost of the improvements, it cannot be seriously claimed that any increase in the ratio of assessment to full value was made in New York or Brooklyn, when the amount of permits issued exceeds the amount of the increase in the assessed valuation nearly $40,000,000.

Notwithstanding the fact that all the evidence in our possession tends to prove that real property in New York County is not assessed as high as 63% of full value, the percentage with which it has been credited for several years past in the State equalization, nevertheless, to avoid any possibility of injustice to that county, it is still credited with that ratio.

AUGUST FORECLOSURES.

Below will be found a tabular and classified statement of the property offered and sold in foreclosure, in the Broadway salesroom, during the months of August, 1897 and 1898. The table is prepared from the Record and Guide "Sales of the Week," in the four numbers of each of those months. The paucity of auction business last month was the occasion of much remark, but the table shows that in the foreclosure branch not only were more parcels sold then, compared with the same month of 1898, but the total values of the properties sold was greater and the proportion taken in protection of mortgages was smaller. In August of last year 133 parcels were advertised to be sold, but 65 of them were withdrawn, so far as that month was concerned; the withdrawals for last month were only 7. In the withdrawals are included all properties advertised for sale in foreclosure which are not sold within the month, and, therefore, part of the property thus classified is only temporarily withdrawn. While in so large a number as 65 many parcels were taken permanently from the market, indicating eased conditions, and the release of the properties from their embarrassments, there were also a considerable number which it was not thought advisable to offer in the then condition of the market, or for other reasons. As similar reasons only influenced 7 parcels last month, it may be taken that the conditions on the whole had improved in the year that had transpired, a view that is supported by the number of parcels and their value that were sold in each of the two months compared to outsiders, or to others than plaintiffs. It must not be supposed from this that last month was not a dull month, only that it was better than the same month of last year to some extent, and that, in a languid and small way, conditions are improving rather than growing worse:

THIRD AVENUE ABOVE THE HARLEM.

Inquiry among real estate agents and brokers as to the condition of the renting business and the market for improved and unimproved lots in upper 3d avenue confirms the impression of prosperity produced by the building activity visible in the avenue. Rents maintain an average favorable both to the shopkeeper and the landlord. The value of real estate is estimated to have risen 20 per cent. in the last two years. Loans are readily obtained on easy terms. Stores are rarely vacant, and where vacancies do exist they are usually accounted for by local peculiarities of site.

The centre of the shopping district is 150th street, with a dry-goods store, a clothing house, a furniture store and a post-office occupying the several corners. Some idea of the rents that prevail in this neighborhood may be obtained from the following figures. The lease of the store, with cellar, at Nos. 2863 and 2865 3d avenue, runs five years, from October, 1896, at a rental of $3,300 and repairs. The second store north, 20x60, brings $1,650; the southeast corner of 148th street, 20x70x irregular, $1,750; the store adjoining on the south, 25x70, $1,750; the store at the junction of 146th street and 3d avenue, 25x70x irregular, $1,200; No. 2997, 25x60, $1,200; No. 2915, 20x60, $70 a month; and No. 2950, 25x60, $75 a month. The demand for business property is especially active between 146th and 156th streets, and it is a noteworthy fact that many of the immigrant shopkeepers come from the upper part of the Bowery and 3d avenue, below 14th street.

Flats between the 146th and 156th parallels rent at from $14 to $25 a month, according to class. Inside lots are quoted at prices ranging between $8,000 and $10,000. The northeast corner of Rose street, 50x87, is offered for sale, with building loan, at $27,000; the southeast corner, 49x87.4, sold in March, 1887, for $6,800.

As we leave the shopping district and approach 161st street we enter a section in which the signs of life and progress are less marked. Third avenue, between 161st and 166th streets originally formed part of the village of Melrose, and the houses are mostly 2-story frame, or, less often, brick dwellings, altered to contain stores on the ground floor. These altered dwelling houses bring a return sufficient to satisfy the present owners, who, in many cases, acquired their property on the basis of village prices. Landlords in this stretch of the avenue are characteristically conservative. They are for the most part neither willing to sell nor to improve. In other words, content with investments made years ago, they are holding out for a further rise in the value of land. However, even here improvements are gradually being made as properties fall into new hands by the death of the old owners, or otherwise, and the erection of modern buildings has begun to introduce an element of competition which will, no doubt, soon compel the reconstruction of the district. Stores containing a frontage of 25 feet rent at from $60 to $65 a month, and those on the westerly side of the avenue are in good demand. The easterly side is less favorably situated for business purposes, having a less populous residence region in its rear—a region that has remained comparatively undeveloped on account of an extremely irregular layout. Boston road and Franklin avenue, for example, run into 3d avenue at an acute angle, shutting off the residence streets that run west by east, and both Boston road and Franklin avenue are old thoroughfares sparsely built up with antiquated homesteads surrounded by broad stretches of lawn.

The building movement on 3d avenue is most conspicuous between 170th and 173d streets. The plot, measuring an avenue frontage of 285 feet, at the northeast corner of 170th street, and which contains eleven new houses constructed by the Henry Zeltner Brewing Co., has for years been used by the brewery as a storage yard. The building activity between 171st and 173d streets received its impetus from the sale of the Bathgate estate which took place last December. It is, of course, impossible to say how rents will run in this new district. However, the flats of the Henry Zeltner Brewing Co. will no doubt be rapidly filled by employees of the company, and it augurs well for the other apartments that there is a marked immigration of small householders into the adjoining streets. Agents report an exceptionally good market for cheap private houses in the streets that run into 3d avenue around Tremont Station, and it is worth noting that many purchasers come from the East Side, in the neighborhood of 80th street. With a rapidly increasing dependent residential population the avenue stores in the new section between 170th and 173d streets cannot long remain idle.

As to land values comparative statistics are more accessible for the section comprised in the Bathgate estate than for the sections farther south. The northwest corner of 171st street, 124.9x109.4x144.2x106.4, which brought $24,000 at the sale in December, 1897, was resold, with building loan, in January, 1898, for $33,000. The southeast corner of Wendover avenue, 34.38x100x32.47x100.02, which went for $8,000 at the auction, has been resold, with loan, for $15,000. The plot on 3d avenue, 39.42 north of Wendover, 75x100, which brought $10,500, is held at $19,500, with loan; the adjoining plot, 50x125, which brought $7,000, is held at $13,000, with loan; the plot adjoining, 25x125, which brought $2,375, has since been turned over twice, the first time at auction for $2,975, the second time at private sale for $4,000; the plot, 75.36x104.40x75x97.05, 37.57 north of Wendover avenue, which brought $11,050, has since been resold, with loan, for $16,000.

A FEAT IN HOUSE-MOVING.

An interesting feat in house-moving is being carried on at Willis avenue and 134th street by Contractor Frederick Damm. The buildings, which are four five-story double brick flats, 100 ft. by 75 ft., are to be moved 75 ft. south from 134th street and 35 ft. east of Willis avenue. The fact that the ground is hardpan is a favorable factor in the operation, of which the following are the principal facts: The outside and party foundation walls were torn away at intervals to allow the erecting of cribs and the east and west walls rest on sills which are lapped and stepped to conform to the four levels of the houses. The sills rest on the timbers, which go to form the cribs and which run completely under the building, east and west, there being twenty-four of them. A series of fourteen run north and south under the building and interlace with the others to form a complete frame. Owing to the buildings being about 5 ft. lower at the south side than at the north, the supporting frame is stepped off in four great steps each about 15 ins. high, and at the north the frame is seven timbers high, while at the south it is only four. After this frame was built 325 ordinary 4-in. screw-jacks were placed under it at regular intervals. The buildings were then jacked up and the remaining walls removed. The tracks, fourteen in number, were wedged up to the timbers and the jacks removed. The tracks are lubricated with a very greasy soap which has body enough to keep the sliding timbers from actual contact with each other. The houses are moved by 20 of the jacks which were used for lifting it. These are set in timbers and are buckled to the tracks by chains and are moved as the building progresses. They are distributed regularly throughout the frame and are operated simultaneously by signal. After the houses are moved 75 ft. south the direction will be changed to east, when what are now the tracks will become the carrying timbers and new tracks will be laid at right angles to the old ones. The building when properly located will be lowered by jacks a distance of 3 ft. and the new foundation walls will be built up and wedged. Houses will be added at both ends of the row to complete the block. The houses have been moved at the rate of 6 ft. a day without the slightest perceptible settlement. About 300,000 cubic ft. of 12 x 15-in. yellow pine is being used in the work. The accompanying illustration shows the buildings ready for moving.

NEW WEST SIDE APARTMENT HOUSES AND DWELLINGS.

The "Minnewaska" and "Mohonk" are the names of two of the many handsome apartment houses now being completed on Central Park West. The appearance of the "Livingston" and "Cascade" new apartment houses occupying the block front on Central Park West, between 86th and 87th streets, is very much improved by the planting of a number of young elm trees on the avenue and streets, in addition to sodding a few feet of the walk next to the curb. Altogether Central Park West has been greatly improved by the laying of an asphalt pavement and the placing of the car rails close together at the east side of the avenue.

Alex. Walker, President of the Colonial Bank, is the owner of an attractive new seven-story apartment house on the southwest corner of Boulevard and 94th street. The fronts are of light brick and stone, and the suites, comprising eight and nine rooms and bath, are renting quickly. Mr. J. D. Trenholm, the agent in charge, said on Thursday that only nine suites remained to rent.

Architect and Builder A. B. Kight is putting the finishing touches to a handsome block of eleven four-story American basement houses which he has erected on a plot having a frontage of 175 feet on the north side of 88th street, just west of Columbus avenue. The frontages range from 16 to 20 feet, and all the houses are 60 feet deep, with three-story extensions. The sidewalks are extra wide, 12 feet, and the planting of a row of young maple trees in front of the houses is an attractive feature. The owner and builder claims another important feature in his ability to sell the houses at Washington Heights prices, and says this is possible because of the low price at which the lots were secured. They are honestly built, having cabinet trim throughout with double floors. Mr. Kight also has two elegant houses under way on 72d street, east of Columbus avenue, which will be ready about November 1st.

Interest in the auction room this week, while not so wanting as for some weeks previous, was small. A couple of East 10th street tenements, near Avenue C, offered in partition, brought out some bidders, mainly professional, and went for fairly good prices to two firms of operators. Recent events have drawn attention upon the desirableness of store and residence property in this section and there is likely to be competition for it whenever any comes on the market. No. 124 Bradhurst avenue, sold in foreclosure, was the subject of a struggle between the plaintiff and defendant to the suit, and finally went to the latter at a substantial figure above the amount of the liens. No. 147 West 88th street, also sold in foreclosure, found an outside buyer at $17,060. Four parcels were withdrawn: Nos. 83 and 85 Clinton place, No. 201 West 38th street and No. 106 West 78th street. The adjournments to dates beyond the coming week were: Northwest corner of 97th street and 4th avenue, to 20th inst.; a parcel on West Farms road, to 21st inst.; and No. 106 East 93d street, to 28th inst.

The Realty Trust makes, in our business pages, an offer of lots to builders with loans, to which attention is hereby called.

The Building Trades

NEW JERSEY NEW YORK LONG ISLAND

Building Material Market.

The market for materials generally shows a little more activity. The important features were: Brick.—Fifty-five barges of Hudson River brick arrived, all of which was sent out on arrival. The accumulation was also worked out with the exception of 4 barges, showing that the demand has increased materially. The resumption of manufacture at Haverstraw has not resulted in increased shipments as anticipated. Prices for common brick are $5.00 and $5.50, with specials as high as $5.60. Pale brick vary from $3.50 to $3.75. All kinds of brick are in good demand. Lime.—There is a good demand for Rockland lime, but the arrivals are not large. Prices are 65c. for common and 75c. for finishing and have an upward tendency. In State lime Jointa is at 90c. and common at 70c. Cement.—Is being sold on arrival, but there is no extra demand. The present price for Rosendale is 70c. Portland, both domestic and imported, is in great demand. Domestic is selling at $2.00, and imported at from $2.00 to $2.55. An active fall trade is expected. Nails.—Local demand quiet. The prices obtainable for desirable orders are as follows: $1.30 to $1.35 for wire nails, and $1.05 to $1.10 for cut nails f. o. b. cars Pittsburg. For small orders, New York stores, the prices are: $1.55 to $1.60 wire and $1.25 to $1.30 cut. Glass.—Plate, 80; window, 80-20. This is an advance of 10% on prices prior to Sept. 1st. Lath.—$1.75 to arrive. No arrivals. Oil.—The market is firmer than it has been for some time, the demand being good. Spot oil is scarce. Prices for raw oil are 33c. for 5-barrel lots or over, and 34c. for single barrels. Refined oil is 35c. and 36c. The seed market is firmer. Paints.—Business is seasonably good and prices are unchanged. Naval Stores.—Spirits of turpentine has advanced to 30½c. for regulars and 31c. for machines, and the close was steady at these figures. Business was principally a jobbing trade. Tar was neglected at $1.85 and $1.90 for regulars and $3,50 for oil barrels. Pitch was in only moderate demand, but ruled steady at $1.60.

Rudolph Werner, architect, will open an office at the southwest corner of 171st street and 3d avenue.

Wm. Douglass's Son and John S. Storms are the most recent admissions to the Master Painters' and Decorators' Association.

Edward Engle, of Messrs. Gross & Horn, and Charles Orne, of the New York Sash and Blind Co., are taking a cruise on their yacht "Lotos," and will be absent two weeks.

The Association of Master Plumbers held its annual outing and clam bake on Thursday of this week. The weather was exceptionally favorable, and called forth a large attendance.

The United Order of American Carpenters and Joiners and the United Carpenters and Joiners of New York have amalgamated under the title of the New York City Carpenters' Union.

Geo. S. Daso, No. 520 East 20th street, and Montgomery & Pattison, plumbers, No. 258 West 18th street, were elected members of the Builders' League at last Thursday evening's meeting of the Board of Directors.

A conference was held last night at the Building Trades' Club, Broadway and 25th street, between representatives of the United Building Trades and the Board of Walking Delegates, with a view to abolishing sympathetic strikes.

A decision of the Supreme Court, made yesterday, upholds the recent award of bonds by Comptroller Coler to the Produce Exchange Syndicate, by declaring that the conditional bid was informal, and, therefore, properly rejected.

The Master Painters' and Decorators' Association has accepted an invitation from their Brooklyn colleagues to attend a meeting at the club rooms of the latter in Court street, corner of Livingston, next Tuesday evening, when an address will be delivered by P. J. Rankin, of Philadelphia, president of the National Association of Master Painters.

SCHOOL AT FIRST AVENUE AND 9TH STREET.

John Morton, of the firm of John Morton & Sons, dealers in building materials, Carroll st and Gowanus Canal, Brooklyn, who died last Tuesday, at the age of 85, was one of the oldest and most prominent men in the trade in Brooklyn. He was a charter member of the Mechanics' and Traders' Exchange, of Brooklyn, and was for many years a member of its board of directors. The following committee will represent the exchange at the funeral, which takes place to-day from No. 181 Washington avenue: Thos. B. Rutan, F. J. Ashfield, W. C. Bush, Commissioner John Guilfoyle, and Isaac P. Sutherland.

Chief Engineer J. A. Bensel, of the Department of Docks and Ferries, after investigating the wreck of the pier shed of the new Wilson line pier, at the foot of Bethune street, North River, finds that the accident was caused by a stroke of lightning and the high winds. The plans for the building on the shed, which was contracted for by the Wilson line, were approved by the Dock Board. The contractors, R. P. & J. H. Staats, were following specifications, and the part of the pier that had been erected was well made. The shed was to have cost $250,000, and the damage done will amount to almost $50,000, which will fall on the contractors.

"The Bulletin," the organ of the National Association of Builders, is out in a new and more attractive form and dress. A full-page illustration gives an interesting view of the progress of work on Boston's new union station, and the papers, of which there are a larger number than usual, are as practical and instructive as ever. A directory of members of constituent bodies in the National Association is also one of the new features and it is editorially claimed that, "with the growth of the National Association and the number of exchanges comprising it, the directory will become more and more comprehensive until it finally represents the pick of the best contracting and building supply concerns in the country."

WAR TAX ON ACKNOWLEDGMENTS AND AFFIDAVITS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please inform us if a notary public is required to attach a revenue stamp to an affidavit or acknowledgment taken by him personally, and if so, what denomination? also, are any stamps required on pension papers when acknowledged by a notary?

Answer.—An ordinary notary's jurat does not require a stamp. An acknowledgment requires a ten-cent stamp unless the instrument to which the acknowledgment is attached is stamped, in which case no stamp is required for the acknowledgment. The Internal Revenue Law does not say who shall affix the stamp. We do not, however, think it is the duty of the notary or commissioner who takes the acknowledgment; the law simply requires him to cancel it.—Law Editor.

COVENANT AGAINST NUISANCES.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A sells to B a certain piece of vacant property where, in a deed of 1851, appears the following restrictive clause: "Grantee agrees not to erect slaughter house, smith's shop, forge, furnace, steam engine, brass foundry, nail or other iron factory or manufactory of gunpowder, glue, varnish, vitriol, ink, turpentine, tannery, brewery, distillery, soap chandlery, or other noxious or dangerous trade or business." This clause, however, does not appear in the last two deeds made twelve years and twenty-six years ago. Do you consider the steam engine restriction in the above covenant prohibits a builder from erecting an apartment house and putting in an engine for the purpose of running an elevator, furnishing steam heat and generating electricity?

Answer.—Strictly speaking, I think it does, but I am aware of a number of cases where such an engine has been put in and is running, and no objection is made, although a similar covenant is in existence. One instance is in Montague street, in the Borough of Brooklyn. Such engine can be run without being a nuisance to adjoining dwellers, and the contemplation of the covenant is that there shall be absolutely no nuisance. It is possible that the Courts might decide that a steam engine such as you mention does not come within the purview of the covenant, but I know of no decision that is directly in point.—Law Editor.

COMMISSION FOR RENTING.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

If A makes a lease for 17 months, total amount being $1,400, viz., $300 for the first five months and the regular rent of $1,100 for the other twelve months, please inform me what the broker's commission would be based on and how much?

Answer.—The commission for renting for a term of one year and under three years is 2½% on first year's rental.—Editor Record and Guide.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it.

The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

BUILDINGS PROJECTED.

THE LAWS AFFECTING BUILDING.

There has not been any book on the market containing all the laws and regulations relating to building in New York City; yet the need of such a volume is plain enough, because a building from its foundation to its final demolition is subject not only to the building law, but to special regulations of the building department concerning passenger elevators, fire-escapes, light and ventilation and plumbing. There is also a law limiting the height of dwelling houses and another requiring temporary flooring. There are the tenement house and lodging house laws, laws relating to the extinction and prevention of fires and explosives, and the storing of combustible materials in buildings. Moreover, there are very important fire department regulations which must be observed in the installation of electrical apparatus, and there are, of course, all the regulations of the department of public works concerning Croton water rates and the use of water, the opening and refilling of trenches and restoring of street pavements; in addition to ordinances pertaining architect, builder, building material man and real estate owner must be familiar with these laws and regulations; if he is not, he suffers. They are now all gathered together (with a directory of architects) for the first time in one volume, illustrated, indexed and supplied is $2.50. Record and Guide, Publishers, 14 and 16 Vesey Street.

The first name is that of the owner; ar't stands for architect, m'n for mason, c'r for carpenter and b'r for builder.
When character of roof is not mentioned it is to be understood that the roof is to be of tin.

Questions and Answers.

NO REDRESS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A leases a corner store. On the side street there is yard, which has always been occupied and considered part and body of the store rented. The landlord, without the consent of A, builds a one-story store on said yard, which deprives A of the privileges enjoyed formerly. The lease does not make any mention of the yard Has A any redress?

Answer.—No.—Editor Record and Guide.

NOTARIES PUBLIC.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Kindly inform me what the duties of a notary public are, and what fee he is allowed to charge for each and every service rendered as a notary?

Answer.—To answer this question fully would take several columns of the Record and Guide. The following, however, is a brief summary of the powers and duties of a notary public and of the fees allowed him by law in this State for purely notarial services. In this State a notary public is appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, for a term of two years, for the county in which he resides, and until recently, he could only act in that county. By recent statutes, however, he may file in any other county of the State a certificate of the county clerk of his county that he is a duly appointed notary and authorized to act as one there, after which he may act as a notary in such other county, appending to his signature a statement that his certificate is so filed, so that a person may, by filing certificates enough, be enabled to act as a notary in all the sixty-one counties. The fee exacted from a notary in New York and Kings Counties is ten dollars, making five dollars a year, and in other counties it is a trifling sum. The principal duties of a notary in this State are to take depositions; to protest negotiable paper; to authenticate and certify copies of documents; to attest deeds and other instruments, and to administer oaths. His appointment does not authorize him, as a notary, to draw legal papers, however, and if he does so, he does it outside of his no-tarial powers. By act of Congress notaries are authorized to administer oaths and take acknowledgments in all cases where under the laws of the United States justices of the peace were formerly authorized to act. The methods of appointment and the duties of notaries public in other States are prescribed by statute and are very much the same as in this State. The fees, however, differ greatly. In this State the fees for their principal services are as follows: For protesting a negotiable instrument, including seal, 75 cents, and ten cents for each notice, not exceeding five. For taking the acknowledgment of one person, 25 cents; for taking the acknowledgment of more than one person in the same certificate of acknowledgment, 25 cents for the first person, and 12 cents for each additional person. For taking an affidavit or administering an oath, 12 cents for each person sworn. For taking a deposition the fees are not prescribed by law; the notary is usually appointed by a court as a commissioner to act in the special case, and may charge a reasonable fee as such commissioner.—Law Editor.

SWINGING SIGNS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please publish reply to the following: Owner of premises, occupying the first floor and having a swinging sign on the second, rents the second floor to a tenant. (1) Has the tenant any legal right to demand the removal of said sign and refuse to pay rent until such removal? (2) The tenant having no lease, but paying from month to month, can he be dispossessed? (3) Can owner increase the rent at any time he sees fit to do so?

Answer.—(1) No. (2) Yes, if he does not pay his rent; and in any event by giving him a month's notice. (3) Yes, by giving one month's notice.—Law Editor.

ORDER OF BOARD OF HEALTH.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please let me know if a party can be held liable and be compelled to carry out a Board of Health order which was issued against his property, having in the meantime received two extensions from Board of Health and filed plans with Building Department for the work ordered by the Board of Health, and also included in plans any extra extension to his house; in the meantife, and before any of the work was done, he sold the property. Can the buyer hold him for cost of work or compel him to do it at his own expense?

Answer.—We think not.—Law Editor.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Note.—The "Order" given by John Larsan on The Congregation Sons of Israel and Fred'k Tworger, to pay Watson & Pittinger, and affecting property on the east side Bay 22d street, 600 ft. south 86th st., which was filed Aug. 25 last, and published in the issue of Aug. 27, under our heading of "Mechanics' Liens," should have appeared under the head of "Orders." All these papers "Orders" and "Liens" are docketed in the County Clerk's Office in the one book without any separation. However, as our readers know, there is a trade distinction between the one and the other, and in law, as well as in fact, they should be kept apart.

MURESCO!

It is a permanently hard wall finish. Over plaster it produces soft, even tints, giving the effect of kalsomine, without the flashing, with none of its disadvantages. It does not rub off against the clothing; will not crack nor peel. It will kill suction, and give a smooth, soft, even coat over an old plastered wall that has been patched. It comes in fifteen artistic colors and white.

You may have a color card and full information about Muresco for the asking.

Vol. LXII. SEPTEMBER 17, 1898. 1,592

PROBABLY New York City to-day is the most cheerful city in the country. There are indications of a good trade movement right here in our midst; exports from this port are large, the hotels are crowded, suggesting the presence of a larger number of buyers from out of town than usual, retail buying judged by the crowded conditions of the shopping districts must be very large. On the whole there are pecuniary reasons for cheerfulness in New York City, to say nothing of the exhilarating effects of contact with Rough Riders and other specimens of gallant military manhood now being mustered out of service, who feel compelled to visit New York and contribute something towards its prosperity before dispersing to their homes all over the country. It may be that these things account for the renewal of the buying movement on the Stock Exchange; the cheerfulness being so irresistible that a man cannot but buy. So far the new buying has selected the Grangers, which are now occupied with crop business and have made excellent reports for the past year, and specialties for its objects. Notwithstanding this sign of sense and discrimination, wonder would arise as to what the movement is really based upon, if it were not known that popular buying movements need nothing more to stand upon than a feeling of confidence and a plentiful supply of reports and rumors of coming prosperity. The prices of the majority of the speculators' favorites can have no basis supportable by arithmetic, unless prudence is a useless virtue and experience no longer a guide to judgment. Stocks that have never paid dividends and have no reasonable probability of paying them are selling at substantial prices, simply because they are manipulated for purposes of speculation, to which the public is a consenting party. Each one that buys thinks he will get out with a profit before the break comes, and to those who wish to do business on that principle, the stock market to-day offers good opportunities.

EUROPEAN stock markets have moved variably, according to the trend of the political news of the day. There was a rise upon the issue of the Czar's disarming proposition, but a decline on the new developments in the Dreyfus case, and there is now some nervousness on the announcement that a French force is at Fashoda and that General Kitchener, with a large force, has gone to meet it. That this will be the occasion of war between France and England is highly improbable, especially in view of the isolation of France at the moment, despite the Russian treaty. As a matter of fact, the Marchaud expedition has never been officially acknowledged by France, such acknowledgment being reserved for the event of its successful establishment in the Nile Valley, which does not now seem possible. The end of the expedition, if found at Fashoda, will probably be a polite conduct up the Nile to Alexandria, and a courteous dismission into the Mediterranean toward home, to the accompaniment, of course, of belligerent utterances of the French and British press. The Argentine-Chilian boundary dispute seems finally disposed of by an agreement to arbitrate. The dispute hangs upon the question, whether the peaks of the Andes simply, or the peaks of the Andes dividing the water shed, shall constitute the boundary. The latter is the Chilian contention based upon an admission made by Argentina some years ago and the probabilities point to arbitration favoring Chili. The Kaiser's threat that a bill directed against labor agitations would be introduced into the Reichstag, can only be taken to mean that Germany's industrial development requires the continuance of the present low rate of wages within the Empire. The working people hearing so much of the country's growing trade and wealth are, doubtless, wondering why they do not benefit from the improvement, and moving toward securing what they may consider to be their share. Now cheap labor has been one of the chief means of putting the German manufacturer where he is to-day and enabling him to compete with his British and American rivals. The Kaiser has, doubtless, been led to believe that the national development requires this advantage to be continued to the manufacturer, hence his threat to use force to repress any movement among the workmen. At the same time over-speculation, in industrials particularly, at Berlin, has created anxiety and a money stringency of some dimensions. The improvement in United States issues and South Americans, and the excellent crops help the markets and European trade conditions generally are improving, though they have at no time recently been bad.

THE NEW BANKRUPTCY LAW.

AS everyone knows, after years of discussion and the introduction of and rejection of several bills that were not acceptable for one reason or another, Congress, in its last session, passed an act "to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States." This act took effect on the date of its approval, July 1st last, but it fixed the date when the first petition in voluntary bankruptcy could be filed at August 1st, and provided that no proceedings in involuntary bankruptcy could be commenced before November 1st next. Some voluntary petitions have already been filed with the Clerk of the United States Court for this District, the Southern District of New York, but further proceedings are awaiting the formulation of rules of procedure by the United States Supreme Court, which are expected to be issued during next month. The main provisions of the act are those that a business man ought to know, that is to say, those defining bankruptcy and providing relief either for insolvent debtors, or for creditors, as the case may require. The most important feature of the act is that it attempts to deal with and prevent the giving of preferences and the transfers of property to the prejudice of either all or the general body of creditors. For either of these acts a man may be made a bankrupt within four months of their commission.

In the first place, acts of bankruptcy by a person consist of his having (1) conveyed, transferred, concealed or removed, or permitted to be concealed or removed any part of his property with intent to hinder, delay or defraud his creditors, or any of them; or (2) transferred, while insolvent, any portion of his property to one or more of his creditors with intent to prefer such creditors over his other creditors; or (3) suffered or permitted, while insolvent, any creditor to obtain a preference through legal proceedings, and not having at least five days before a sale or final disposition of any property affected by such preference vacated or discharged such preference, or, (4) made a general assignment for the benefit of his creditors; or (5) admitted in writing his inability to pay his debts and his willingness to be adjudged a bankrupt on that ground. Within four months after the commission of any of these acts, the date in the case of transfer or assignment, to begin from the recording or registration, or the notorious exclusive or continuous possession by the beneficiary of the property transferred or assigned, three or more creditors who have provable (valid) claims aggregating $500 or over, or if there are not more than twelve creditors, one whose claim equals that amount, may file a petition to have the debtor declared a bankrupt; but, if less than three join in petition, others may come in subsequently to make up the number. Petitioners must file a bond with two sureties to be approved by the Court, conditioned for payment of costs, expenses and damages in case petition is dismissed. Death or insanity of bankrupts will not abate proceedings. Solvency is to be a good defense against a petition in bankruptcy, but the burden of proof rests on the debtor. Absconding bankrupts may be recovered by extradition. Bankruptcy proceedings are to act as stays to suits founded on claims to which a discharge would be a release. Bankrupts are required to attend meetings of creditors and examinations, producing books, vouchers, etc., as required by the Court, but not at a place more than one hundred and fifty miles distant from their home or principal places of business. After examination in open Court,, or at a meeting of creditors and the filing in Court of a schedule of property and creditors, the bankrupt may offer terms of composition. When composition is not accepted by a majority of creditors in number and amount and confirmed by the Court, the estate is to be administered in bankruptcy as provided by the act. Bankrupts are allowed exemptions provided by the law of the State in which they have resided for six months previous to the filing of the petition.

Any person who owes debts, except a corporation, is entitled to the benefits of the act as a voluntary bankrupt. Any natural person, except a wage earner (defined as an individual who works for wages, salary, or hire, at a rate of compensation not exceeding $1,500 a year), or a person engaged chiefly in farming or the tillage of the soil, any unincorporated company, and any corporation engaged principally in manufacturing, trading, printing, publishing, or mercantile pursuits, owing debts to the amount of $1,000 or over, may be adjudged an involuntary bankrupt upon default or trial. So, too, may a partnership, during the continuation of the partnership business, or after its dissolution and before the final settlement thereof, be adjudged a bankrupt, but not without the consent of the member or members of the partnership, if any there be, who have not been adjudged bankrupt.

Any person adjudged a bankrupt may, after one month and within twelve months, apply to Court for discharge and the Judge may discharge him unless he has committed an offence punishable by imprisonment; or, with intent to conceal his true financial condition and in contemplation of bankruptcy, destroyed, concealed or failed to keep books of account or records from which his true condition might be ascertained. A discharge will not release bankrupt from (1) taxes; (2) judgments in actions for frauds, obtaining property by false pretences, wilful and malicious injuries to persons or property; (3) debts which have not been scheduled in time, if known to bankrupt, unless the creditor had notice; (4) debts created by fraud, embezzlement, misappropriation, or defalcation.

Discharge will not effect the liability of a co-debtor, surety or guarantor of a bankrupt.

Compositions and discharges may be set aside on proof of fraud, the first within six months and the second within a year.

These are the chief provisions of what is thought to be a satisfactory bankruptcy law; and, while it is unquestionably a step in the right direction, how far its specific provisions will meet the wishes of the commercial world in that direction, only its practical operation can determine.

ONE of the plans submitted to the Indian Currency Commission for meeting the Indian currency difficulties and preventing stringency arising, and the one that seems to meet with most favor in London financial circles, is known as the Lindsay scheme. It is that a sterling loan of £10,000,000 should be raised in London and that amount of gold deposited either in the India Office or the Bank of England to constitute what may be styled a Gold Standard Reserve. That done, the Indian Government should announce that it was ready to sell in London to all applicants rupee drafts for sums of 15,000 rupees and upwards in exchange for sterling money at the rate of 1s 1 1-16d. per rupee, and also to sell in India sterling drafts on London for sums of £1,000 and upwards in exchange for rupees, at the rate of 1s. 3 1/32d. per rupee. Under such an arrangement, it is contended, if stringency arose in the Indian money market capital would flow thither from England to avail itself of the opportunity afforded for more profitable employment because there would then be the certainty which at present there is not that, if desired, it could be brought back again without any serious loss on exchange; while, on the other hand, if the Indian market was over-supplied, the redundancy would be corrected by the exchange of rupees for drafts on London. Thus the gold stock would not be drawn upon for hoarding or any other purpose than for exchange transactions, and to guard against an undue depletion of the gold reserve the Government would be authorized to withdraw rupees from circulation, melt them down, and buy gold with the silver thus obtained. The last suggestion, if vital, ought to be fatal to the plan. It means that in a time when shrinking gold reserves have created distrust, as such a contingency would most certainly do, and money was urgently needed, the supply would be arbitrarily contracted by the withdrawal of rupees from circulation and panic precipitated.

TAXPAYERS should remember that they are at liberty to make requisitions for bills for their taxes about to become payable. The Receiver of Taxes has already received about a thousand such requisitions, which, with others received later on, will be filed, and complied with in the order of their reception. Requisitions for taxes due on property in the Boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx should be made to the Receiver of Taxes, Chambers street and Broadway, where also the taxes for Manhattan will be received; taxes for The Bronx will be received at the Municipal Building, Crotona Park. The Receiver's offices will be open to receive taxes Monday, October 3d.

THE fact that 3,547 children were this week refused admission to the public schools because of want of accommodation, and that 11,074 can have only half a day's instruction each school day, will make it necessary for the administration to apply to the Legislature for relief when it convenes next January. It is understood that, in any case, a bill to make special provision for the debts of the several constituent cities, towns and villages of Greater New York, at the time of consolidation, will be introduced, and so give the consolidated city a margin of debt limit within which bonds can be issued for improvements.

IT is gratifying to note that Mayor Van Wyck, when recently mentioning the municipal improvements that ought to be carried out, included the public library among them. He seemed to give it preference over new armories, though subordinating it to the New East River Bridge. Probably no one will find fault with this order of precedence so long as the determination to build the public library is not abandoned. A public functionary may be forgiven for not being acquainted with the finer reasons that make the demand for a library as peremptory as that for an improvement to meet merely material wants, so long as he does not make the granting of the first impossible, or delay it unreasonably.

A NEW CITY NORTH OF THE PARK.

At the culmination, eight years ago, of the great building movement which created the West Side the region immediately north of Central Park, between 110th and 125th streets, and Morningside and Park avenues, remained practically vacant, with the exception of a narrow fringe along its borders. During the four years of general inaction that followed no change of any moment took place in this region, though some improvements were made, particularly in the neighborhoods within easy walking distance of the elevated stations. By 1894, in addition to the houses that lined the borders of the district, several conspicuous groups of buildings, mostly dwellings, had been erected in 116th and 117th streets, and in the streets facing Mount Morris square, as well as in some other localities. But, on the whole, the interior of the district was vacant land.

The year 1895 marked the beginning of a new period of prosperity in the building industry. In no three years in the history of New York City have plans been filed for improvements aggregating so large a sum as that for the triennium 1895 to 1897. The region immediately north of the park became the scene of a disproportionately large share of the operations of these years. The speculative builder, who in the 80's had been occupied successively on the East and West Sides, transferred his activity hither, with the result that the value of the improvements projected in the district in 1895 rose to treble that of the preceding year. Rocks and unsightly shanties began to disappear before the magic of the builder's art, and compact rows of buildings appeared in every street and avenue, until to-day, vacant plots form an exception instead of the rule. Since the beginning of 1895, in less than four years, flats and private dwellings have been erected within the district sufficient to house a population of 30,000 souls.

The construction of this new city above the park formed part and parcel of a larger building movement. Nevertheless, there were local causes which made for the improvement of the particular territory in question. These causes are not far to find. By 1895 the price of vacant lots on the East and West Sides within reach of convenient transportation had, as the result of accomplished improvements, reached a point which left little or no profit to the speculative builder of flats and dwellings. The price of lots north of the park, on the other hand, remained comparatively low. The removal of Columbia University to Morningside Plateau, and the erection, on the heights, of the Teachers' and Barnard Colleges, were not without influence. Some importance must be attached to the construction of the viaduct in Park avenue. The improvements in surface transportation effected by the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, including the opening of the underground trolley in 116th street and Lenox avenue, certainly added to the attractiveness of the district as a place of residence. The district, moreover, possessed the advantage of magnificent avenues, a legacy of the Tweed regime, and of proximity to the Central and Morningside Parks, besides containing within its borders Mount Morris square. But, above all, land was cheap, and, other things being equal, cheap land acts with the force of gravitation on the builder's craft.

At first some doubt seems to have been entertained as to whether the construction of flats or private dwellings would prove the more profitable speculation. But the proportion of dwellings to flats in the district is rapidly diminishing. During the present year plans have been filed for only five private houses as against eighty flats. One Hundred and Tenth, 112th, 113th and the southerly side of 114th street, between 7th and 8th avenues, are restricted to private residences, as are also some lots on 117th street, and both sides of 118th, between 7th and Lenox avenues. However, by far the larger part of the houses constructed during the past four years have been 5-story flats. The following table will give some idea of the number, character, and cost of the improvements that have been made in the district bounded by 110th and 125th streets, and Morningside and Park avenues during that period:

SUMMARY OF BUILDINGS PROJECTED.

Year.	Flats. No.	Flats. Cost.	Dwellings. No.	Dwellings. Cost.	Miscellaneous.	Total.
1895	221	$5,359,100	97	$1,282,000	$86,000	$6,786,100
1896	316	7,984,000	47	707,000	88,750	8,779,750
1897	277	7,472,800	60	878,000	110,000	8,460,800
1898 (8 mos.)	80	2,107,000	5	100,000	54,000	2,757,000
Total	794	$22,922,900	209	$2,967,000	$338,750	$26,829,650

The decrease in the number of plans filed during the present year, no doubt, has some connection with the general condition of the building industry. But the falling-off is more especially due to overbuilding. Indeed, it is over a year since the large builders ceased to undertake new work. The activity that is now visible is confined mostly to the small builder—the man who depends on the building loan operator for the sinews of business.

Considering that, in less than four years, some 950 flats and dwellings have been erected within an area measuring seven city blocks by fifteen, it is not surprising that there should be many vacancies in both classes of houses, and that there should be many houses unsold. One builder has no less than forty-four vacant flats on his hands. But, although inducements, as a month's use of premises free of charge, is offered to tenants, rents are high compared with other flat-house neighborhoods.

It is interesting to know where the new tenants come from. Very many come from the suburbs. Families with growing children move into the city for the sake of its educational advantages. But perhaps the largest number of new tenants come from the region between 14th and 59th streets, whence they are driven by the encroachments of business and the influx of a cheaper foreign born tenement population. With two such inexhaustible, and, indeed, growing sources of tenantry, it cannot take long for the conditions of supply and demand in respect of housing to become reversed.

DEPARTMENT OF BUILDINGS' APPROPRIATIONS.

The Department of Buildings has applied for appropriations for 1899, as follows: For Manhattan and the Bronx $356,025, as against $333,125 granted in 1898; for Brooklyn $133,650, as against $106,129 appropriated last year; for Queens and Richmond $37,940, as against $13,640 obtained in 1898. In asking for these appropriations Commissioner Brady says:

In asking for the appropriation of [illegible] for the year 1899 than was granted for the current year for the Department of Buildings, Boroughs of Queens and Richmond, we hope [illegible] same appropriated for 1898 [illegible] for the year 1899 [illegible] adequate on account of the demands that will be made on the Department [illegible] necessary to insure thorough supervision over the territory in these boroughs and the maintenance of its offices, one at New Brighton and one at Jamaica.

It is proposed to appoint one additional superintendent, two plan examiners, two clerks, a messenger, two office boys, fourteen inspectors and a driver, the present force being utterly inadequate to cover the immense territory comprised in the Boroughs of Queens and Richmond. The idea that any inspector whose district averages 27,000 acres can inspect the structures in his district in a proper manner is preposterous.

Within this immense district is a great number of hotels and places of public resort, of which very few, if any, are constructed with regard to building regulations. The most of them, even the fire-proof hotels, are inadequately supplied with fire escapes and means of exit in nearly all of the public rooms and halls in upper stories. Should fire occur in any of these buildings, loss of life would be certain to occur. The Department of Buildings should have at its command a force of men sufficient to inspect all these structures and to compel compliance with the building laws, especially where the conditions are such as to endanger life. Instead of this, the present force is barely able to keep track of the new work which is going on.

It must be borne in mind that the territory to be covered in making inspections should constitute an important factor in the computation of the amount necessary to maintain the department in these boroughs.

Your attention is invited to the conditions that at present exist in the building districts, comprising the Boroughs of Queens and Richmond. Even now, as in the past, many carpenters, masons and even unskilled laborers take it upon themselves to formulate plans and specifications for the erection of buildings. Many of the residents of this section, owing to the absence of any building department or building regulations, prior to the creation of the present City of New York, are ignorant of what is required by the Department of Buildings, so much so that the Commissioner of Buildings in the Boroughs of Queens and Richmond has not only the onerous duties of his office [illegible] at Long Island City and at Richmond to perform, but he is constantly called upon to give advice gratuitously and proffer information tending towards the education of the people in these boroughs upon the subject of the laws, rules and regulations governing the erection and alteration of buildings.

The Board of Buildings, in the preparation of this estimate, have borne in mind the admonition of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, and have excluded every item of expense not absolutely necessary, and the figures submitted, in our judgment, are as low as is consistent with the best efficient service.

FIREPROOF "ALIGNUM."

For some years past architects and builders have been hoping for a satisfactory substitute for rare woods and marbles, one which would not only have their characteristic features and beauty, especially of the rare stones, but which would also be unaffected by water and fire alike. Alignum, a patented article, fulfills all these requirements.

The stern laws, coupled with the rigid rules observed by the insurance companies, have made this a very difficult result to obtain.

Many trials have been made, but now it seems accomplished on a commercial basis.

At present alignum is produced chiefly in the form of flat surfaces for wainscoting, representing any and all of the expensive woods and marbles.

Its refractory and waterproof qualities, together with its beauty and high polish, which is not affected by water, makes it a much desired article in finishing halls and vestibules in fireproof buildings.

Most faithfully have the most minute details been reproduced of marbles and woods.

The characteristic striatons, delicate and richly tinted veins of rare marbles and other ornamental stones, are perfect.

In the reproduction of costly woods, the manufacturers have exercised the same care and exhibited the same skill.

Alignum, now formed in flat surfaces for wainscoting and ornamental work, can be moulded under pressure into hollow ware, its waterproof qualities rendering it particularly valuable for sanitary articles.

Tests made by prominent New York architects have shown that, so far as strength and imperviousness to fire and water are concerned, alignum is superior to materials commonly ranked as fireproof, with the exception of terra cotta, over which it has an advantage in that it can be made in large slabs.

The readiness with which alignum can be sawn or nailed will commend itself to many an architect and builder, and its great strength, coupled with its durability and beauty, will enable it to be used in many instances where other substances would not answer the purposes in hand.

This new product is considered of great value for the purposes to which it is applied.—Scientific American.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Paul Pfotenhauer, of the firm of P[illegible] dealers in fine front brick, has returned from a well-earned and thoroughly enjoyed vacation at Elkar Park, Catskill Mountains, where he was a guest at the well-known Schoharie Mansion. He reports that he feels thoroughly rested and ready for a vigorous fall campaign among his many friends in the building and architectural trades.

Mr. John H. Shipway, of the firm of John H. Shipway & Brother, the prominent dealers in and manufacturers of marble and onyx in this city, is at present on a tour [illegible] search of marble and mosaic cubes [illegible] an extraordinarily fine quality of marble and mosaics, necessitated his going abroad in search thereof. Incidentally, Mr. Shipway is combining a bit of pleasure [illegible] ness. At last accounts, Mr. Shipway was at Venice, and he reports that he will be in New York again about [illegible]

TRADE NOTES.

We argue that spring hinges have to perform the hardest duty of any hardware; not only do they carry the weight of a door and suffer the wearing friction of constant usage, but besides, must automatically close it. This being admitted, the importance of using a durable spring hinge, fully able to do its work, is apparent. Bommer Spring Hinges, manufactured by Bommer Bros., Nos. 351 and 353 Jay street, Brooklyn, N. Y., are the best. They combine greater durability with a pleasing exterior which blends harmoniously with any style of decoration, and cost no more than other kinds. They are made of wrought steel, and, says the World's Fair Award, are "practically unbreakable."

[illegible] had a busy season, their work embracing contracts for St. Thomas Aquinas' R. C. Church, at 4th avenue and [illegible] from plans by Wm. Schickel & Co.; the [illegible] building for the Flatbush Hospital, R. L. Daus, architect; and three public schools at Hollis, Rockaway Park and Arverne; Architect Morrill Smith, of Rockaway, designed the first two, and Architect G. A. Edelsvard, of New York, the Arverne school. All three are handsome brick and stone structures and reflect credit on the architects and builders. Messrs. Gibbons are long-established and reliable contractors and [illegible] ities for rapid and satisfactory work. [illegible] and 320 Columbia street, near Hamilton [illegible] ephone, 83 Hamilton, Brooklyn.

[illegible] E. W. Johnson, for many years with Edward [illegible] charge of mill, has secured the commodious [illegible] factory of the latter, at Nos. 12 to 50 West 67th [illegible] for the manufacture of window frames, house trim, [illegible] and is furnishing trim for many well-known [illegible] buildings. Mr. Johnson supplied Builder R. H. Casey with all trim required for the new store and studio building at Madison avenue and 42d street, and window frames for the Cotton-Oil Exchange, Nos. 27 and 29 Beaver street. For Builder E. W. Kilpatrick's new six-story apartment house, at Madison avenue and 95th street, Mr. Johnson is furnishing the window frames; for the Museum of Natural History, for G. W. Chesley, frames, sash and other interior woodwork. Mr. Johnson will gladly furnish estimates for work in his line. Telephone call, 71 A, Columbus.

THE WAR REVENUE LAW

It is unnecessary to say that the War Revenue Law is of interest to everybody. To many it is much more than interesting—it is perplexing. Business men have not yet been able to master its provisions, even so far as their own particular calling is concerned. The columns of the "Record and Guide" show how many problems real estate men are meeting daily arising from this law. A carefully compiled and annotated volume dealing with the stamp tax would be a boon to thousands, and we are glad to see that Messrs. Edward L. Heydecker and Fulton McMahon, of the New York Bar, have undertaken the work which [illegible] issued by Matthew Bender, the Albany law publisher. Mr. Heydecker is already well known to our readers by his meritorious work on the Mechanics' Lien Law. His recent book will enhance his reputation. It is an exceedingly good bit of legal editing, carefully, completely and clearly done. The law itself is given in full, thoroughly annotated, with pertinent decisions under former acts. It contains also an excellent summary, showing at a glance what the tax is on any article. There is, besides, a valuable bibliography on the subject. We advise our readers to procure this book.

The Building Trades

Building Material Market.

Brick.—Hudson River brick: 48 barges arrived last week, and same number went out. The accumulation was exhausted, and the market is bare. Prices have advanced, owing to the fact that the season is short. Specials are selling at $5.75; common range from $5.25 to $5.625. Pale run from $3.50 to $4.00 for extra grades. Demand is very good for New Jersey; supply is behind. Manufacturers have not been able to keep pace with demand, owing to shortage of hands. Common are selling at $5.25. Light hard at $4.25 and pale at $3.75. Cement.—Rosendale: No change in price. Demand in New York City not extra good. Conditions about the same as have existed for the past four weeks. Imported Portland varies from $2.00 to $2.75 for fancy brands. There is a good market for any and everything that arrives, and the importations are about the same as they were last year at this time. In domestic Portland the demand is 60 per cent. greater than at this season last year, owing to resumption of work throughout the country. The demand has absorbed the entire amount in reserve, and orders are standing that cannot possibly be filled until November 1st. Lime.—Rockland is selling at 65 cents for common and 75 cents for finishing. There is very little here, and a light supply on the way. The demand is good, and there is a prospect of higher prices. There has been no change in the condition of State lime during the past week. Lath.—About 10,000,000 were sold this week at prices ranging from $1.50 to $1.60. The demand is good. Supply short, and there are few on the way. Nails.—Demand is quiet, and is not as large as anticipated last month. The cut nail dealers held a meeting this week and advanced the price of cut nails 5 cents on a keg. Prices now for cut nails are $1.15, f. o. b. cars Pittsburg, and $1.25 on dock New York City. Small lots New York stores run from $1.30 to $1.35. Prices in wire nails are unchanged. The wire nail manufacturers are holding a conference in Chicago with a view to advancing prices. Most of them are in favor of a slight advance. Oil.—The market is firm and the demand good. Out of town oil is less freely offered. Prices are the same as last week. There is no out-of-town oil under 32c., while some out-of-town crushers are asking 33c. The seed market is firm. Glass.—Prices are the same as last week; plate, 80; window, 80-20. Lead.—Prices are unchanged: the demand is good, and the market firm. Naval Stores.—Spirits of turpentine market is quiet; small jobbing trade; small inquiry for large lots. Local market closed firm at 31c. for regulars and 31½c. for machines. Tar and Pitch.—Business chiefly in small lots. Prices for tar: regulars, $1.85 to 1.90; oil barrels, $3.50. Pitch steady at $1.60. Lumber.—The demand for yellow pine is better than the supply, owing to wet woods in the South. Prices for ordinary building orders range from $18.00 to $19.00. Random cargoes bring from $16.00 to $17.00. There is a better feeling in the spruce market. Prices have not varied; business is better than a month ago, and the outlook is fair. Prices are as follows: 3-in.x9-in. to 10-in. bring $14.50 to $15.50; 3-in.x6-in. to 8-in., $12.50 to $13.50; 2-in. cargoes, $13.50 and $14.50. In South Carolina pine the prospect is fair. There is more inquiry, but prices are no better. The demand for cypress is better than it has ever been before. The demands has increased fourfold in the past two years. In general, an improvement in the lumber market is looked for, and prices have an upward tendency. In hardwood, the conditions are unchanged. A better feeling is looked for in the near future in sympathy with the probable general improvements in the lumber trade.

The Real Estate Market

Real Estate Market.

The features of the private sales' market this week were the purchase of medium-priced flats and private dwellings, and the disposal of vacant lots for improvement, generally with building loans. The most important transactions of the week were the sale of the northeast corner of 5th avenue and 16th street, to a building loan operator, followed by the resale of the property to a builder; and the purchase by a firm of building operators of a plot of thirty lots on the Boulevard, between 160th and 161st streets. According to the auditor of the New York Life Insurance Company, the negotiations relating to the Olympia Theatre have not been advanced during the week, no contract having been signed. The renting market has been normal. There is an encouraging demand for stores at economic figures, and the inquiry after flats is fair. The supply of first-class furnished apartment and private houses with modern improvements in the central part of town, between 5th and Madison avenues, is apparently not keeping pace with the increase in the class from which the better tenantry of the district is drawn. Representative firms report that they have in many instances been unable to furnish satisfactory accommodations to customers. It would undoubtedly pay the owners of some of the antiquated, though substantial, houses in this part of the city to remodel their interiors in accordance with modern demands in respect of sanitation and comfort. The total number of transactions reported below is 47, with considerations given in 15, and amounting to $761,500; corresponding figures for last week were 24, 10, and $637,050, respectively.

The following are the comparative tables for the New York Conveyances, Mortgages and Projected Buildings for the corresponding weeks of 1898 and 1897:

The only voluntary sale in the auction room this week was that on Wednesday, by Wm. M. Ryan, of six lots—four on 169th street, near Marcher avenue, and two on the west side of Marcher avenue, 150 feet north of 169th street, each 25x276. The Marcher avenue lots were bought in at $1,450 each, and the 169th street parcel was withdrawn. The partition sale, on Thursday, by Philip A. Smyth, of the Casey estate, consisting of Nos. 284 and 286 Mulberry street, No. 220 East 53d street, and No. 215 East 112th street, furnished the occasion for some bidding by operators, but each of the properties eventually went to beneficiaries of the estate. In the foreclosure sales consummated, of which there were considerably less than during the corresponding week last year, the offerings, with one possible exception, went to the plaintiff or to parties in interest. The sale of No. 762 West End avenue, was adjourned without date.

Richard V. Harnett & Co.'s announcement in our business pages of the auction sale of the dwelling, No. 115 East 57th street, should have the attention of realty investors.

OUT OF TOWN.

Max Hart has sold to David Scully the dwelling, No. 60 Sound View avenue, New Rochelle, taking in exchange three lots on Kensico avenue, New York City.

REAL ESTATE NOTES.

Louis Lese is the buyer of the plot, 155x150x irregular, mentioned in our issue of September 3.

Isidore Kaufmann was the buyer of Nos. 154 and 156 Lenox avenue, mentioned in our last issue.

Thomas S. Walker, of Hall J. How & Co., returned to the city this week after an absence of two months.

Edward P. Phillips, real estate broker, has just returned to the city, having spent his vacation at the seashore.

It is intimated that lack of funds to supply heat and lighting may compel the Dock Board to close the recreation piers during the winter months.

W. F. & C. H. Smith, the well-known and active real estate brokers, are again showing their ability to sell, as will be seen by referring to our Gossip column.

L. Kaufmann, not Max Hart, was the buyer of No. 21 Morton street, mentioned in our issue of September 3. William Seeligsberg was the broker. The buyer will improve.

Jessie C. Bennett & Co. have leased the store No. 1740 Amsterdam avenue at the northwest corner of 146th street, where they will open a branch office for the transaction of a general real estate business.

We note the recent return of the following well-known real estate operators and builders to their town residences and usual business avocations: J. L. Buttenweiser, E. Oppenheimer, Edward Hirsh, Morris Franklin, Julius Bachrach, Jacob Korn, Bernard Moyer, Benjamin Weil, Charles Duggin.

The Gunther property at Yonkers, a tract of about seventy acres, which was sold some time ago for about $200,000, will be divided and sold in plots for a good class of dwellings. A company has been organized, to be known as the Gunther Park Co., and Dr. D. H. Murray, of Syracuse, is one of the principal stockholders.

Dr. Edward Martin, Chief Inspector of the Board of Health, in reporting on complaints of noise from the Park Avenue Viaduct, said that it was caused by the trains running over hollow beams, which acted as a sounding board, and recommended that these beams should be filled in with sawdust and asphalt. He also recommended that wooden ties be used on the tracks. These would lessen the noise, though they would not obviate it altogether.

Isaac A. Hopper, who has the contract for filling in the Kingsbridge road trench is quoted as saying: "When I made the trench I gave the greater part of the material excavated to the city, and it was used in filling in Lafayette avenue. I shall be obliged to bring earth from a considerable distance, and have not yet found enough to fill the trench. Much of it will have to be brought in barges up the Harlem River, and considerable time will be consumed. It will be three weeks or more before the road is filled up, and then it will have to be reopened again almost immediately." The last remark referred to the probability of a new street car franchise for Kingsbridge road being obtained at an early date, but Mr. Hopper has not made proper allowance for the time that will be consumed in necessary technical preliminaries before physical operations are begun, even if no difficulties arise to prevent the immediate granting of a franchise.

The Farmers' Loan and Trust Co., as executor and trustee, has received an offer through a well-known broker for the balance unsold of the Bathgate estate's holding in and about upper 3d avenue. However, in the present conditions of the market for lots in that neighborhood, the company prefers to sell at auction. A sale will probably be held next month. Lots purchased at the auction sale conducted by Peter F. Meyer in December last have been resold at an advance of about 50 per cent. Those that have gone into building loan contracts, which are the majority, have been put in at figures showing an advance of 100 per cent. The Farmers' Loan and Trust Co. is not alone in thinking the time propitious for the disposal of lots in the Bronx. On September 21, 27 lots in Morris Park avenue and Union Post road will be offered at voluntary sale; on October 1, 115 lots on Claremont Heights; and on October 8, 165 lots of the J. J. Neill estate in 177th street, east of Bronx—all by H. C. Mapes & Co.

CONCERNING REAL ESTATE AGENTS AND BROKERS.

Honeyman & Fleck, of No. 308 West 26th street, near 8th avenue, are young, energetic and experienced workers in the realty business. They give strict personal attention to all matters entrusted to them, and a constantly growing clientele is evidence of their success. They pay prticular attention to renting, collecting and placing of insurance. Messrs. Honeyman & Fleck's list of properties for sale is very complete, including parcels for investment and improvement.

NEW EAST RIVER BRIDGE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Kindly inform me whether the new East River Bridge will encroach on premises Nos. 208 and 210 Norfolk street, northeast corner of Broome street.

Answer.—We presume you mean Nos. 208 and 210 Broome street, northeast corner of Norfolk. If you do, you will find, by consulting map published in "Record and Guide," October 24, 1896, that that property will be required for the new bridge plaza.—Editor Record and Guide.

COMMISSION ON RENTAL—FIRE CLAUSE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Kindly reply to the following questions: (1) A, a recognized real estate agent introducing himself as such, seeks owner, B, of certain premises in the interest of his clients, C, who wish to lease the premises; the lease is signed and security deposited. Can A collect the commission, and how much; term 5 years? (2) If the premises are destroyed by fire, what is the refuge of the lessor?

Answer.—(1) Yes. He can collect commission on the rent for the full term, 1 per cent. on gross rental. (2) The ordinary lease contains a clause for the adjustment of the rent in case of fire, which is usually to the effect that if the premises are destroyed or so damaged by fire as to be untenantable, rent stops until the premises are repaired. If the lease is silent on the subject, the rent is payable for the full term, fire or no fire.—Law Editor.

Editor Record and Guide:

The lien filed against premises on 92d street, west of Central Park West, by Patrick Reddy, Sept. 15, is entirely unjust. Mr. Reddy's contract specifies that he is entitled to a payment on the second tier of beams on production of surveyors' certificates. The names of the surveyors are specified. A payment of $2,500 was made to him in advance of the terms of the contract, and at the present time there is not anything whatever due him, and he has failed to produce surveyors' certificates. Every other contractor on the job has been paid in full according to contract. Mr. Reddy's claim will be resisted.

BUILDINGS PROJECTED.

THE LAWS AFFECTING BUILDING.

There has not been any book on the market containing all the laws and regulations relating to building in New York City; yet the need of such a volume is plain enough, because a building from its foundation to its final demolition is subject not only to the building law, but to special regulations of the building department concerning passenger elevators, fire-escapes, light and ventilation and plumbing. There is also a law limiting the height of dwelling houses and another requiring temporary flooring. There are the tenement house and lodging house laws, laws relating to the extinction and prevention of fires and explosives, and the storing of combustible materials in buildings. Moreover, there are very important fire department regulations which must be observed in the installation of electrical apparatus, and there are, of course, all the regulations of the department of public works concerning Croton water rates and the use of water, the opening and refilling of trenches and restoring of street pavements; in addition to ordinances pertain-architect, builder, building material man and real estate owner must be familiar with these laws and regulations; if he is not, he suffers. They are now all gathered together (with a directory of architects) for the first time in one volume, illustrated, indexed and supplied is $2.50. Record and Guide, Publishers, 14 and 16 Vesey Street.

The first name is that of the owner; ar't stands for architect, m'n for mason, c'r for carpenter and b'r for builder.
When character of roof is not mentioned it is to be understood that the roof is to be of tin.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

MURESCO!

It is a permanently hard wall finish. Over plaster it produces soft, even tints, giving the effect of kalsomine, without the flashing, with none of its disadvantages. It does not rub off against the clothing; will not crack nor peel. It will kill suction, and give a smooth, soft, even coat over an old plastered wall that has been patched. It comes in fifteen artistic colors and white.

You may have a color card and full information about Muresco for the asking.

Vol. LXII. SEPTEMBER 24, 1898. 1,593

THERE has been a contraction of speculative activity in the stock market this week, and some progress made toward bringing sufficiently low prices to induce new operations on the long side. Consummation of this movement is, however, still far away. The fight in the sugar trade, which is likely to be most influential in shaping the market for some time, may easily become a bitter one, both sides being well equipped with money and experience. In the sugar trade, where the respective merits of the combatants are best appreciated, great respect is expressed for the American Sugar Company's opponents, though in the Street it is confidently believed that the former will finally come out on top. This belief is due mainly to the company's very strong financial position. Besides a surplus probably equal to its antagonists' collective resources, it has had $10,000,000 of bonds in its treasury for some years, of which it has not issued a dollar's worth. Still it is a fight in which much damage can come to all concerned, and as long as it is prolonged will be adverse to prices. In the final outcome sugar will undoubtedly be a great purchase; but who is to say when the outcome will be and what figure the stock will reach before the contestants will be ready to give up the fight? The changed condition of the money market has naturally a tendency to limit speculation. The rise in the Bank of England's rate to 3% will check the westward flow of gold—if it does not another advance may be expected—and this resource will be curtailed. The necessity the banks are under to keep their reserves good will, of course, mean a calling of loans and the dispersion of the collateral by means of the market. On the whole the situation, as well as the merits of the speculative issues, call for still lower prices. As to the outside business situation there is no reason to recall the cheerful views of it presented recently, there being no abatement of either confidence or activity.

EUROPE concerns itself very much with the problems now before our and the Spanish peace commissioners, and we are given to understand that the Madrid government intends to make out that Spain is entitled to ask the United States to assume part of the Cuban debt, on the ground, firstly, that the money had not been raised exclusively for Imperial and national purposes, but also for colonial objects; secondly, that a considerable part of the loans had been spent on colonial public works, defences and buildings that will naturally remain; and thirdly, that cession of territory and of sovereignty has often in international precedents entailed the transfer of part of the debt. At the same time, we are also informed that the Spanish press is preparing the public mind for a reorganization of the State debt, involving reductions in both principal and interest, as soon as the peace agreement has been drawn up and the basis for this liquidation can be ascertained. Japan is expected to come into the market as a borrower of from $40,000,000 to $50,000,000. Mexico publishes a highly satisfactory foreign trade statement for 1897; the excess export balance was nearly double what it was in 1896, and higher than for many preceding years. The daily developments in the Dreyfus case form the political and commercial history of France to-day. In Germany the reports from all branches of industry are very satisfactory, especially those from the iron and steel trade. A project for the construction of a canal to connect the Rhine, the Weser and the Elbe, to be submitted at the next session of the Prussian House of Deputies. Austria-Hungary has resumed activity under the stimulus of good harvests and the prospect of the satisfactory renewal of the fiscal agreement between the two countries. Electrical development is proceeding on with rapid strides, nearly all the cities of any importance contemplating the laying of electrical railroads and the installation of electric power for lighting and industrial purposes. Rates for money are hardening in London and all over the Continent as a result of the widespread activity and the demand for gold from the United States.

THE COURSE OF REALTY INTEREST RATES.

DURING the past five years money has been in limited demand for commercial purposes and rates have been low. It is, therefore, an interesting and opportune question how far this has benefited New York realty? The panic of 1893, disastrous as it was in many respects and directions, brought to light the fact that the wealth of the country had grown enormously; and, by their gathering in the financial centres, that the reserves of capital were greater than anyone had previously any idea of. These reserves coming to the depositories in the large cities, as a result of lost confidence and a limited commercial demand throughout the country, and having to be employed in some way and in part permanently, have sought the security of city realty. The consequence has been a readjustment of rates of real estate loans upon a lower basis. That this conclusion is just, we intend to show by an examination of the mortgage statistics of New York City, or as we should now perhaps say, Manhattan and The Bronx, since the beginning of 1893. For this purpose we would first draw attention to the volume of mortgage loans made in the several years since that date and the first half of this, as shown by the following table, from which, as from the tables that follow, we have omitted mortgages to corporations that are not strictly mortgages on real estate, covering as they do personalty, franchises, etc.:

MORTGAGES FOR THE YEARS 1893-'98.

Year.	Total.	Increase. Amount.	Increase. Per cent.
1893	$172,518,638	.....	...
1894	157,771,149	*$14,747,489	*8.5
1895	200,216,741	42,445,592	27.0
1896	212,710,593	12,493,852	6.4
1897	214,715,080	2,004,487	0.9
1897 (first half)	112,033,631	.....	...
1898 " "	120,351,478	8,317,847	7.4

*Decrease.

We see here that the panic year, 1893, was followed by one of considerable contraction, though the percentage of decrease, 8.5, will not appear a large one to those who have a vivid recollection of the state of business generally in 1894 and, more particularly, the utter lack of confidence in all business enterprises that then prevailed. It was while this feeling was most apparent that money flowed in large volume to New York, and this irruption of idle money in turn explains the large increase in mortgage loans in the succeeding year of $42,445,592, or 27%. Compared with 1893, this increase is about $28,000,000, or 17%. A considerable portion of this increase, it may be suggested as lessening the satisfactoriness of the showing, is accounted for by an unusually large number of renewals of mortgages made in 1895, a process that also contributes to a continuation of the increases of totals in the succeeding years. But these renewals themselves were made because the times were propitious and money could be obtained at easier rates than when the original mortgages were executed, as a further consideration of our subject will reveal. The volume of loans made in the first half of this year compared with the corresponding portion of last year, shows that conditions are still favorable and the process of rearranging loans to, as we think, reduce interest charges, is still going on, accompanied by a good business in new loans. Whether these views are sound or not will be seen when we distribute these totals according to the interest rates obtained. Take then the mortgages at 5%, as given in the following table:

MORTGAGES AT FIVE PER CENT.

Year.	Amount.	Increase. Amount.	Increase. Per cent.	Per cent. of total mortgages.
1893	$88,022,260	.....	....	51.1
1894	80,954,169	*$7,068,091	*8.0	51.4
1895	93,034,842	12,080,673	15.0	46.5
1896	101,435,861	8,401,019	9.0	47.7
1897	100,182,963	*1,252,898	*1.2	46.6
1897 (first half)	50,395,883	.....	....	44.6
1898 " "	48,544,586	*1,851,297	3.7	40.4

*Decrease.

These five per cent. loans were unaffected by the conditions of the market in 1893 and 1894, or only slightly so, the decline in volume in the latter year being not proportionately so great as the decline in the total given in the first table for that year, the percentage being about 8, as compared with 8.5. In the following years they failed to hold their own; not only do they show a small decrease of 1.2%, in 1897, while the total made an increase of 0.9%, but their percentage of the total has never since reached the figures of 1893 and 1894, and in the first half of this year they make some further decline. Five per cent. is the medium rate at which most of the real estate loans are made, and it will follow that, if they decline in proportion, it must be either because money has become dearer or cheaper and that more loans are being made at a higher or lower rate. That the latter is the case the next table, giving the loans made at less than 5% tends to prove:

MORTGAGES AT LESS THAN FIVE PER CENT.

Year.	Amount.	Increase. Amount.	Increase. Per cent.	Per cent. of total mortgages.
1893	$31,653,158	.....	....	18.3
1894	33,486,794	$1,833,636	5.4	21.2
1895	58,418,577	24,931,783	74.4	29.2
1896	56,635,486	*1,783,091	*3.0	26.7
1897	56,915,057	279,571	0.5	26.6
1897 (first half)	29,598,205	.....	....	26.4
1898 " "	34,055,902	4,457,697	13.3	28.3

*Decrease.

The most striking feature of this table is its exhibit of an almost continuous, though irregular increase of the amount of money put out on realty security at the lower rates of interest. Even in 1894, when the total decreased 8.5% these loans increased 5.4%, and in 1895, when the total increased 27% and those made at 5%, only 15%, the increase in low-rate loans was 74.4%. This we think conclusive that, however abnormal the number of renewals was in that year, the abnormality was due directly to the cheapening of money and the opportunity presented for reducing carrying charges. There was a moderate decline in 1896, but that may be fairly attributed to a reactionary movement, such as usually follows a great effort in any one direction and by no means mitigates the favorable conclusions to be drawn from the figures of the preceding year, especially as it was followed by a recovery in 1897 and an indication in 1898, that the movement toward lower rates of interest is gaining strength. The proportion of the amount of the low-rate loans to the total amount of mortgages, which, in 1893 was 18.3%, rose to 29.2% in 1895, declined to 26.7 and 26.6, severally, in 1896 and 1897, and in the first half of the current year rose again to 28.3%.

The loans at 5%, and those at less than 5%, can only grow at the expense of those at over 5%, and for that reason we do not think it worth while to give all the figures relating to them, as we have in regard to the two first-named classes. It will be sufficient to give the percentages of the totals only, which may be stated thus: The amount of money loaned on mortgage at more than 5% was 30.6% of the total so loaned in 1893, and the corresponding percentages for the following periods were: 1894, 27.4%; 1895, 22.3%; 1896, 25.6%; 1897, 26.8%; first half of 1897, 29%; first half of 1898, 31.3%. The volume of these highest rate loans has recovered its proportions of 1893, but the volume of lowest rate loans has been done more than that being larger than it was in 1893.

IT is with satisfaction we learn that the Health Board has taken hold of the work of suppressing or preventing the creation of a smoke nuisance in a business-like way. This is one nuisance from which New York must be preserved, as we have constantly urged ever since there arose a danger of its perpetration. Our citizens may get along with dirty pavements, but dirty air would be unbearable, and, as individual selfishness is ever seeking to inflict this evil upon us, the announcement that it is to be prevented by systematic and continued vigilance is very welcome. The Board has divided the city into twenty-seven smoke districts, each of which is to have an inspector who will report each morning on the condition of his district on the previous day. The private citizen can help the Board to keep the smoke nuisance away from the city by reporting any infraction of the ordinance against it with which he may become acquainted.

IT is a pity that in national affairs there is no way even to roughly estimate beforehand the cost of this or that policy. All that a people can do who commit themselves to a certain course of action is to put their name to a blank check and honor it, no matter how onerous the amount may be when the time for payment arrives. The current "Imperialism," undoubtedly, is a catchy tune, but just as undoubtedly the piper must be settled with. The American people have not yet fairly started with this new affairs of theirs, and the bills are coming in with alarming rapidity and for enormous amounts. By and by the expenses will be vastly greater and Uncle Sam will be obliged to go deeper into his pockets and exercise an unwonted ingenuity in the matter of devising taxation. Hitherto we have pitied the European who marches from the cradle to the grave with a tax-collector on both sides of him, but in this country we are fast approaching a similar state of affairs. Indeed, to-day, how few are the articles that do not, in one way or another, contribute to the national treasury. Yet here we are clamoring for new policies entailing heavier national expenditures at a time when almost with the same breath Farmer and Manufacturer alike are complaining of the increasing difficulty of making a profitable living. Bay-windows are excellent additions to dwellings no doubt, but we all agree that Micawber was not in a position to afford one. Similarly with our cry for territorial extensions, it would be well if people could only be brought to consider the cost which annexations, protectorates and so forth must inevitably entail upon us. We can, as a mere matter of "can," pay for these things, just as European nations can pay for their militarism, but the burden is a grievous one ,and the question for us is whether we will not be much better off if we refrain from testing our ability to pay taxes. Even a successful demonstration could hardly be entirely comfortable. Of course, the events of the last few months cannot be annulled. We are committed thereby to some things. But there are people who would commit us to everything within sight, and it is against this thoughtless uncalculated policy that energetic protest is necessary. The revival this week of military demands, the need that apparently exists already of greatly increasing the force of our standing army, the augmented pension list that to-day stares us in the face—these and many other similar matters which only the bawler and the fool can ignore ought to set people thinking out the steps they advocate the nation shall take.

THE offices of the Receiver of Taxes, No. 57 Chambers Street, for Manhattan, and in the Municipal Building, Crotona Park, for The Bronx, will be opened on Monday, Oct. 3d, for the receipt of taxes, which become due on 1st prox. Payments made on or before the 1st day of November next will be entitled to a rebate at the rate of 6% per annum, from the day of payment until that date. Payments made between Nov. 1st and Dec. 1st will not be entitled to rebate; on those made after Dec. 1st a penalty of 1% will be charged; and on those remaining unpaid Jan. 1st, 1899, interest at the rate of 7% per annum from Oct. 3d next, until payment will be charged. Owing to the offices of the Receiver of Taxes not being opened for the receipt of taxes until the third day of the month—a matter which by the by is placed in his discretion by the charter—the greatest rebate obtainable is interest at the rate of 6% for 58 days. Of course the rebate on payments made after Oct. 3d will be reduced according to the number of days they are delayed. Requisitions for tax-bills will be filled as fast as the clerical force can handle them. Bills for taxes on property in The Bronx, although obtained from No. 57 Chambers street are still payable at The Bronx office.

BROOKLYN'S TAXES.

Inquiries continue to reach the Record and Guide regarding Brooklyn's 1898 taxes, although the matter has been several times discussed and the facts relating thereto explained in the "Questions and Answers" column. To satisfy the wishes of those who are still uninformed on the subject the provision of the charter relating thereto is given below:

SPECIAL PROVISION FOR TAXES OF 1897-'98

Section 901. Inasmuch as the amounts due in the way of taxes for state and municipal purposes for the year eighteen hundred and ninety-eight will have been levied in the boroughs of Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond, prior to the first day of January, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, but not in the city of New York, now, in order to prevent double taxation of property outside of the limits of the present city of New York, for the year eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, it is hereby provided that in the said year eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, the balance so caused to be raised by tax shall be raised exclusively from property within the limits of the corporation heretofore known as the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the city of New York; but it is further provided that in case it shall transpire that the amount levied or collected from any borough outside of the present city of New York, and available to the uses of the city, as constituted by this act, for the year eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, shall be more or less than its due proportion of the expenses for the year eighteen hundred and ninety-eight of the city as constituted by this act, such excess or deficit shall be equalized and adjusted in the budget of the following year; to the end that each borough shall bear its fair proportion of the expenditures of the city for the year eighteen hundred and ninety-eight. The municipal assembly shall have full power, by appropriate ordinances, to enforce this provision, and is hereby invested with power to make such equalization and adjustment by different rates of taxation, or otherwise, in the several boroughs, to the end that taking the years eighteen hundred and ninety-eight and eighteen hundred and ninety-nine, together, each borough shall pay its proper proportion of the general expenses of the city for both years.

VACANT LOTS AND LAND VALUES NORTH OF THE PARK.

Two questions of practical importance are raised by the extraordinary building movement which, during the past four years, has swept over the district between 110th and 125th streets and Morningside and Park avenues—namely, How many vacant lots remain in the territory? and how has the price of land been affected by the recent building activity?

The cheapness of land immediately north of the park, compared with equally desirable locations on the East and West Sides, as pointed out in these columns last week, has been the chief cause of the rapid development of the past four years. The record of conveyances in 1894 and 1898 hardly affords sufficient basis for a study of the rise in the value of vacant lots during the intervening period. The number of conveyances in the former year was small, and most of the sites involved have since been improved. In 1898 sales of vacant lots have been numerous, but, on the other hand, the habit has prevailed of omitting the consideration from the deed, a circumstance which indicates that the buying has been done to a large extent by professional operators. However, inquiry among brokers who make a specialty of vacant lots in the district shows that, although the price of land has advanced 25 or 30 per cent. during the past four years, it is still considerably lower than the price of equally desirable land on the East and West Sides. According to these same brokers, inside lots in the streets between 8th and Lenox avenues are quoted at $10,000; in the streets between 5th and 6th avenues, at $9,000. In 110th street, which faces the park, and 116th street, which contains an elevated station, inside lots range in value from $15,000 to $20,000; restricted lots in 118th and 119th streets, between Lenox and 7th avenues, are held at $12,500. Available sites in Lenox and 7th avenues, are generally speaking to be had only in plots of 100x100, which bring from $70,000 to $75,000, according to location, the plots having been acquired years ago by investors who are in no hurry to sell. In 5th avenue a plot of 8 lots, including two corners, sold last year for $120,000. These quotations should be studied in connection with the following table of the sales of vacant land in the district recorded during this year whenever the consideration was stated:

*At foreclosure sales. †With building loan.

The upward tendency of land values is having a wholesome effect on the district. Hitherto the 5-story flat has prevailed, a circumstance determined largely by the inexpensiveness of sites. But the advance in the cost of ground is compelling the erection of a higher grade of houses—6 and 7-story elevator flats, with frontages of 28 or 30 feet, instead of 25, as well as a superior class of private residences.

The district at the present time, according to the insurance maps, contains 1,024 vacant lats, a table of which is given below. The tendency of less expensive sites to be placed under improvement first, is demonstrated in this district, for it is mostly the choicer locations that remain vacant. It is stated by a well-informed broker that only a very insignificant part of this unimproved land is controlled by building loan operators, and that the rest is owned by estates and investors, which insures a continuance of comparatively low prices for some time to come.

EXPERT TESTIMONY ABOUT SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

At a meeting of the Committee on Buildings of the Board of Education, Jacob W. Mack, chairman, held at 585 Broadway last Monday afternoon, the following report by Experts Alex. Rice McKim and Geo. Hill was offered, and admitted in evidence taken to ascertain the character of the work of construction of School No. 5 on Edgecombe avenue, between 140th and 141st streets, which was erected in 1895 by Contractor P. Gallagher. The report explains itself and answers the columns of matter recently printed in the daily papers concerning bad work on this school building:

Mr. P. Gallagher, 156 Fifth avenue.

Dear Sir: Following is our report on Grammar School No. 5, on Edgecombe avenue, between 140th and 141st streets. We examined the same on Aug. 16 and Sept. 2, accompanied by Mr. Haywood, Inspector of the Department of School Buildings.

MAIN BUILDING.

Outside Walls.—A few slight cracks were observed on the south façade (140th street). On the east or rear wall there were numerous cracks, some vertical and some diagonal. On the south elevation of the north wing and the north elevation of the south wing there were vertical cracks. On the north façade (141st street), beginning with the centre pavilion, west end, and extending east to the end of the façade, there were numerous cracks, both vertical and diagonal. In the concrete cellar floor there were two cracks, each starting at the wall of the north front wall (141st street), and extending out from it about two feet and then running parallel with the wall towards the rear for about eight feet.

All of these cracks are the result of unequal settlement, and are due to two causes:

First. The building is so designed that the weight of the floors and walls are concentrated by means of girders over the window openings onto narrow piers. These piers with their large loads are carried by foundations of the same width as adjacent piers, from which most of the loads have been relieved. For example: In the north façade (141st street) where the greatest settlement is shown, the middle 12 lineal feet of foundation transmits to the soil a total load of over 9,500 pounds per square foot of bearing area. The adjoining 11 lineal feet of foundation on either side transmits less than 2,000 pounds per square foot of bearing area.

Second. The character of the soil of the foundation bed differs materially as regards the bearing capacity. The west front (Edgecombe avenue) rests on a sand and gravel bed, which is practically incompressible. The main rear wall between the north and south wings, and the east half of both the north and south front walls rest on a compressible red clay; changing at the northeast corner to a darker clay, still more compressible.

These defects are due solely to the design, as neither of the above causes of settlement were considered in designing the foundations.

As the cracks are small, many of them visible only on a careful examination, and as the footings have now come to an equal bearing, we consider the building perfectly safe as far as they are concerned.

The bottom of the concrete foundation of these walls is at the required depth, of the specified width, and has a thickness of from 10 to 16 inches. This thickness is somewhat less than that specified. If this change in thickness was unauthorized by the Department, we should say that it was done by the foreman in charge without his employers knowledge in order to get credit from him for rapid work. Our reason for so thinking is that the change was not in the contractor's interest. For making the concrete thinner necessitated building the brick wall lower. That is, there is less concrete, but more brick work, than specified. As brick masonry costs more than concrete, we find that the contractor lost 20 cents per lineal foot of foundation wall.

The cracks in the façades are in no wise due to this change, or there would have been longitudinal cracks in the concrete foundation. As there are no such cracks, it shows the thickness is sufficient for the offset.

REAR BUILDING.

In the cellar, under the rear building, there is one wide crack running almost horizontally on the north side wall; one diagonal crack at the middle of the east wall, which extended through the story above; and two diagonal cracks—one in each wall of the southeast corner—the one on the south wall continued over the door of the story above.

The soil on which the rear building rests is composed of a damp compressible clay. The west and side walls are four feet below grade and have symmetrical footings. The west wall exerts a pressure of 2,026 pounds, and the side walls of 1,112 pounds, per square foot on the soil. The east wall is 11 feet below grade, and has an unsymmetrical footing. It exerts an average pressures of 3,455 pounds per square foot, but, owing to the eccentricity of the footing, this becomes 625 pounds on the inside and 6,282 pounds on the outside. The stack exerts a pressure of 5,668 pounds per square foot on the soil.

The cracks on the east and south walls of the rear building are due to not properly proportioning the foundations to the superimposed loads. The stack settled and took a portion of the wall with it. The crack in the north wall occurs where a shallow foundation abuts against a wall with a deep foundation, with no provision for stepping up so as to build the shallow wall only on solid earth.

These cracks are also due to lack of care in design and not to construction. We find no evidences of defects due in any degree to either workmanship or materials, both of which appear fully up to that specified.

We consider it unwise to leave the holes under the foundation open any longer than necessary. Wherever the soil has been removed from under the foundation, it should be replaced by concrete compacted as much as possible.

GEORGE HILL,
Consulting Engineers.

The Real Estate Market

Real Estate Market.

The activity of the private sales' market this week has been confined chiefly to transactions in flats and private houses and in vacant lots and antiquated tenement properties. The number of dwellings sold is noticeably large, and includes a $100,000 residence at No. 23 East 57th street. This circumstance, taken in connection with the numerous sales of old properties for improvement, indicates an improvement in the economic condition of the consumer. The tenement house population, owing to an expanding market for labor, is acquiring ability to rent modern quarters, and people of substance are resuming the style of living which they maintained before the advent of hard times. During the past few years the tendency of the latter class has been to economize by giving up private houses for flats and apartments; the tendency now is the other way. And this is the cardinal fact reflected in both the private sales' and the renting market—indeed, as pointed out in this column last week, the returning demand for dwellings, whether cheap or expensive—provided they approach modern ideas of sanitation and comfort—finds the supply short. Investment buying, which is influenced by conditions other than those which rule in the market for house buying, show very slight, if any, improvement, although the sale of two good business properties noted below is not to be overlooked. The total number of transactions given below is 48, with considerations given in 13 amounting to $560,300; corresponding figures for last week were 47, 15 and $761,500, respectively.

The following are the comparative tables of Manhattan and the Bronx of the Conveyances, Mortgages and Projected Buildings for the corresponding weeks of 1898 and 1897 given:

There were no voluntary offerings in the auction room this week. Of the 24 parcels sold under foreclosure, 18 were bought by plaintiffs. The lot, 25x100, on the east side of St. Nicholas place, 174.1 south of 153d street, which sold at auction six years ago for $9,800, went to the plaintiff for $11,643. The difference between these sums will probably be less than the taxes and interest for the intervening period. St. Nicholas place, under the influence of the opening of the Speedway, has lost some of its exclusiveness as a residence street, a fact made apparent by the presence of new apartments, with stores, at 152d street and a road house in course of construction at 155th street. This week a firm building loan operator announced the purchase of a plot, 75x100, in St. Nicholas place and Edgecombe avenue, near 153d street, which will be resold for improvement with apartments of the better class. Unfortunately, the foreclosure sale in question has little value as an indication of the direction in which the price of land is moving. A 5-story brick store and tenement, No. 231 West 19th street, went to an outsider for $23,200. The property, when sold under foreclosure in May of this year, was bought for the defendants, who have been unable to comply with the terms of sale, at $22,000. Four partition sales were held during the week, at one of which 27 lots in Morris Park avenue and Unionport road (24th Ward), were distributed among six buyers at prices ranging from $65 to $650. The bidding was mostly by residents in the neighborhood, and some of the lots went to builders. The sale of No. 1999 Clinton avenue was adjourned to October 5, and No. 115 East 57th street was withdrawn.

Comptroller Coler has issued a notice calling attention to the fact that the Bureau for the Collection of Assessments and Arrears is now preparing for a sale of real estate in the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx for arrears of assessments for local improvements. No date is yet fixed for the sale.

H. R. Snyder and C. W. Gramm, have been admitted to the firm of Tim & Co., and their office at 116th street will be the uptown branch of that firm under their personal supervision. They will make a specialty of collecting rents and selling lots with building loans.

A quarterly dividend of two per cent. has been declared by the Board of Trustees of the Title Guarantee and Trust Co., payable October 1, 1898, to stockholders of record on the closing of the transfer books at 3 p. m. on September 23. The books will be opened at 10 a. m. October 1.

The Grand Central Palace on Lexington avenue and 43d and 44th streets has been offered to the Government for use as a barrack. The rental asked is $6,000 a year. Deputy Quartermaster Kimball has advised the acceptance of the offer, but of course without consulting owners and residents of the vicinity.

McVicker & Co. were the sole brokers in the sale by the Shephard Knapp estate, reported last week, of a plot of thirty lots, 200x375, on Boulevard, east side, 160th to 161st street. From first to last the closing of this considerable transaction was due to the efforts of this well-known firm of brokers.

It is reported that the Metropolitan Street Ry. and the Third Avenue R. R. companies will join in an application for a franchise to operate an electrical surface railroad on Kingsbridge road, as soon as the Municipal Assembly has provided a procedure for receiving and passing upon such applications, which is not likely to be for some time, the Mayor having vetoed an ordinance recently passed in both Chambers for that purpose.

Wm. H. Hoyt & Co. have purchased a tract of 25 acres—part of the old Yonkers Driving Park—adjoining the easterly side of Lowerre Station, Yonkers. The tract was included in a parcel of 1,000 acres bought for a race track in 1866 by Leonard W. Jerome, in conjunction with James Gordon Bennett and Wm. R. Travers. The 25 acres just purchased will be laid out as part of Lowerre Station.

The condition of the Hudson River tunnel enterprise is thus described by the attorney for the reorganizers: A decree of foreclosure of the mortgage of £550,000 has been obtained from Chancellor McGill of New Jersey. The property will be sold at a date yet to be set. It will no doubt be bought in by the Reorganization Committee. Then funds will have to be created to complete the work. About $2,500,000 is needed.

Acting on the report that, owing to lack of the necessary appropriation, the recreation piers would have to be closed during the coming winter, the Board of Aldermen have directed their Committees on Docks and Health to confer jointly with the proper authorities relative to keeping the recreation piers in use during the winter; to have them make requisition for funds for this purpose for the approaching and succeeding winters, and to urge in the requisition an appropriation for the construction of more piers in congested districts.

The members of the Taxpayers' Alliance of the Bronx held their first meeting in their new clubhouse, at 175th street and 3d avenue, this week. The object of the alliance, which has 400 members, is for the improvement of the Borough of the Bronx. Resolutions were passed requesting the Harlem Railroad Company to put in better lights at their stations; also requesting the elevated road to extend its lines to Tremont and Fordham; also the Mayor and the City Council to carry out the contracts for grading, street improvements, and bridge building in the northern part of the city.

In reference to a report that $1,400,000 was available for street improvements in Manhattan and the Bronx, and $190,000 for similar improvements in Brooklyn, Secretary Mooney, of the Board of Public Improvements, told a Record and Guide representative yesterday that there was no such money available, and that no improvements will be made either in New York or Brooklyn until it was definitely known what funds were at hand. He further said that there were many streets in all the boroughs that needed attention, and the Board would be only too happy to improve them if they could.

Peter F. Meyer, as a Dock Commissioner, appeared before the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, last Thursday, to speak on the matter of keeping recreation piers open during the winter. He said it would cost $43,000 to inclose the piers and put in plants for lighting and heating. He recommended that the piers be not opened for the coming winter, because the plants could not be put in before February. He thought it might be a good plan to put heating and lighting plants in the East 24th street and Barrow street piers, and keep them open during the winter of 1899-1900 as an experiment. The Board took no action in the matter.

It is reported that the 7-story apartment house, the St. John, at No. 1418 Broadway, has been leased for 20 years to S. W. Parker, proprietor of the Parker House, No. 123 West 39th street. The St. John was acquired in February, 1894, by its present owner, Peter Duffy, president of the Schubert Piano Co., in exchange for Nos. 214 and 216 West 22d street. The two houses will now be connected by means of a bridge. They were built by J. D. Fish, when president of the long defunct Marine Bank.

The general partners now are Geo. H. Lowerre and Percy Pyne Lewis. Mr. Lewis, a grandson of the late Moses Taylor, has been connected with the firm for a number of years. The Building Trades

Building Material Market.

This market, as a whole, shows an increase of activity as a natural consequence of the fall resumption of business, and prices are advancing in the expectation of a larger demand from this time on until frost checks work. The main features of the market were:

BRICK.—Fifty-five barges of Hudson River came in last week and were sold on arrival. On Monday the largest sale of the season took place, consisting of 33 barges. The price of specials is $6.00, and the other grades are crowding them closely. Pale are in very good demand, and are active at $3.75@4.00, but have not shared the advance in proportion to hard. In New Jersey the demand is very good, with supply inadequate. Trade is active at following: $5.50 for common, $3.75 for pale, and $4.25 for light hard.

LATH.—Supply is scant, and there are few on the way. There were 4,000,000 sold this week at prices ranging from $1.60 to $1.65. The demand is excellent, and is on the increase.

LIME.—Prices of Rockland are as quoted last week, but net cash. Arrivals were light and demand good. Thomaston just now rivals Rockland in price. In State lime the inquiry is good. Although the production is considerable, no large quantities are coming to this market; the greater part is being shipped west or kept for the local market, where better prices are obtainable. Prices here are firm at 65c. for common and 85c. for Jointa.

LEAD.—Prices unchanged. Trade quiet. Inquiry steady, but mostly for small lots.

GLASS.—Demand is good, outlook fair. There is nothing to warrant a change in prices, which remain firm at 80 for Plate and 80-20 for Window.

NAILS.—The latest advices from the conference of the wire nail manufacturers, held this week at Chicago, are that every one of the principal manufacturers has signed an agreement to advance the price 5c. a keg. The manufacturers have also agreed to meet every month and fix prices. There is a feeling among the trade that there will be another advance of 5c. at the next meeting, which will be held on Oct. 15th. Prices are now: Wire nails, car load lots, base, $1.35 f. o. b. Pittsburg; $1.50 on dock New York City. Advance extra on three-penny fines, from 50c. above base to 65c.; small lots, New York stores, $1.60 base. Cut nails, $1.10 f. o. b. Pittsburg, and $1.25 on dock New York.

OIL.—Market is firm, and inquiry excellent. Prices at present are unchanged, but an advance is anticipated. There is no material change in seed market.

CEMENT.—Rosendale is in better demand. Prices for cargo lots are ranging upward from 65c. Best brands are getting 70c. Small lots, New York dealers, are bringing from 80 to 85 cents. The favorable conditions in domestic and imported Portland are even more pronounced than last week. The mills are working to their fullest capacity, and it is now no longer a question of prices, as there is not an available barrel to be had. Prominent firms cannot take any further orders for the present, as there is no prospect of filling them. An advance in Rosendale is looked for owing to the scarcity of Portland.

LUMBER.—There was a marked increase in activity in the general lumber market this week. Spruce is unqualifiedly better than ten days ago. Offerings were light and inquiry excellent. Prices have advanced $1.00 per 1,000 ft. Mills are booked up full. This condition of trade will have a material effect on the spring trade, with the effect of pushing prices up. Yellow Pine trade is excellent. Prices have advanced $1.00 and $1.50 per 1,000 ft. and a still further advance is looked for. North Carolina pine is fairly active, with prices about normal. The prominent mill men met ten days ago and advanced prices from 5 to 10 on one and two-edge boards, and 50c. per 1,000 ft on box lumber. These new prices have not up to the present time been received, but it is highly probable that schedule prices will rule before very long. Trade in Hardwoods improved during the week. White ash is going up in price, and brown ash is in good demand. Poplar or white wood and oak, both plain and quarteded, are firm. The demand is excellent, but the supply is adequate.

NAVAL STORES.—Spirits of turpentine is quiet; business is being done mostly in small lots. Prices show an advance of ½ c., and the market closed dull and steady at 31½ for regulars and 32 for machines. Tar was quiet, but prices firm; offerings were limited and inquiry moderate. Prices were $1.95@2.00 for regulars and $3.70@3.75 for oil barrels. Pitch was neglected at $1.60.

OF INTEREST TO THE BUILDING TRADES.

George H. Pierce, architect, has removed his office from 114 5th avenue to No. 1133 Broadway, room 1527.

Cable & Lucas, No. 1183 Broadway, N. Y. city, will prepare plans for a sanitarium to be erected at Sea Gate, Coney Island, for John H. Woodbury, Dermatological Institute, No. 127 West 42d street, N. Y. city.

John E. Darragh, the mason and builder, who has been spending a month in the country, returned Tuesday night to find a house he owns, No. 215 West 100th st., devoid of a veranda, clapboards, flooring, and furnishings. He says it was in excellent order when he left, and attributes his loss to the negligence of the police of the West 100th street station.

Last week the Record and Guide stated that Hew Miller was formerly "of the firm of George H. Thomson & Co.," instead of, as was originally intended, "with the firm," etc. Mr. Miller has never been a member of the firm, as our paragraph was calculated to imply, nor, it is right to add, has he, so far as we know, claimed to have been.

A remarkable feat in engineering is now progressing in the building of the New York Life Insurance Co. at Chicago. The roof, which is a ponderous affair, 80 by 100 feet, and weighing 2,000 tons, is being raised 12 feet to allow for another story on the building. The water tanks are rising with the roof and the operation is being so skillfully conducted that the water supply, electric wiring and elevator facilities are not disturbed. When the desired height is attained, steel beams will be placed to support the roof in its new position and the space thus gained will be closed in. The roof is constructed of steel beams, terra cotta blocks and asphalt, and is being raised perfectly level by jacks, at the rate of about two feet a day, with little or no vibration.

The jobbers and representatives of the various wall paper manufacturers throughout the country meet in New York at the Gilsey House every year on September 1st, when it is agreed that the new stock shall be first shown. There are some thirty-four factories in the vicinity of New York and Philadelphia, and these concerns have been working full time for the past three months preparing samples for the convention. The designs are selected, printed, cut into lengths of a yard and bound into books. When the samples are shown the jobbers, numbering about one hundred, who come from all parts of the continent, select what they think they will buy from each manufacturer and take samples. The jobbers' and manufacturers' representatives agree not to show their samples before Sept. 26th, nor to undersell each other on the prices agreed upon. In printing the paper one roller is necessary for each color, and it costs from $300 to $500 to make each set of eight rollers, which is the average number necessary to print a good paper. A representative house spends $25,000 in making the rollers for a year's trade, and it costs a manufacturer easily $100,000 to get ready for the season's trade. The factories will soon receive orders and start to print. The demand will be supplied as rapidly as possible, but the retailers will not be able to offer the paper to the public before next spring. After all the paper is printed the rollers are destroyed unless there is a special demand for some particular design. The aggregate output of the factories in the country amounts to 200,000,000 rolls.

TRADE NOTES.

ARTIFICIAL STONE WORK.

Shalack Bros., the well-known artificial stone contractors, have removed to larger and better-equipped quarters, at Nos. 47 and 49 West 140th street. They are very busy executing contracts for artificial stone sidewalks, areas, cellars, stable and brewery floors for many leading builders, and refer to such firms as James A. Frame & Son, Smith & Stewart, Weil & Mayer, Wagner & Wallace, Picken & Lilly, Ashley & Moore, Fred. Haas, P. C. Eckhardt and many others. They are now laying sidewalks for Builder Chas. MacDonald, on 119th street, east of 7th avenue.

PLASTIC SLATE.

J. Casmento & Co., of No. 160 5th avenue, manufacturers of plastic slate roofing, report a growing demand on the part of architects, builders and owners for plastic slate roofing. They are filling orders for several roofs of this material, which can be applied anywhere where slate can be used. It does not soften under the influence of heat, or crack from cold, and affords a water and fireproof covering. It is light in weight, does not require painting, will not corrode, and is guaranteed for a term of years. Circulars and estimates for new or old work will be sent on application to J. Casmento & Co., the oldest firm in the business, at the above-mentioned address.

ELECTRICITY FOR LIGHT AND POWER.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

The electric companies of New York city, such as the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, refuse to supply electricity for light or power unless a minimum sum is guaranteed them monthly. They also refuse, where the owner has installed a private electric plant, to supply current unless a minimum use is guaranteed, which minimum they fix at a figure equal to from one-third to two-thirds the total ordinary use of the current. Their charter expressly provides that they shall supply current on demand to any owner or tenant of a building within one hundred feet of their mains, but I can find no record of a case on this point in New York State, although in Boston the Edison Company was forced to supply current to a private plant without charge except for current actually used (see case New England Shoe and Leather Co. and others vs. Boston Edison Electric Illuminating Co. Report of Gas and Electric Light Commissions, Mass., 1890). There are thousands of tenants or owners paying this minimum charge, and an answer to the following questions would be of great benefit: (1) Have the Edison and similar companies the right to refuse to sell power to a responsible owner or tenant of a building within one hundred feet of their mains. (2) Have such companies a right to exact a minimum guarantee before supplying current. (3) Should not the minimum guarantee, in any case, be the same whether a plant were installed by the owner or whether no plant were installed.

Answer.—(1) I think not. (2) I think not. (3) In my opinion, yes. I know of no decisions in this State relating to electric companies which bear upon the questions, but I have no doubt what the decision would be were the question raised. As well might the gas companies make the same demands.—Law Editor.

NEW ELM STREET.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I am a property-holder along new Elm street, and would thank you if you could let me knew how soon the city will finish up the street?

Answer.—We are informed that no money has been appropriated to finish Elm street, and, therefore, the Department having the matter in charge cannot tell when it will be done. It will take about $60,000 to do the work, but they do not expect to finish it this year. The matter is now before the Board of Public Improvements.—Editor Record and Guide.

ORAL AGREEMENT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Kindly decide the following in your next issue, if possible. A figures on a job for B, as per plan shown at the architect's office. When B receives the figures he calls on A with the plan and specifications, which (the specifications) A never saw until then, instructing A to go ahead. A finds, through the specifications, that there is twice as much work as he figured, and tells B so at once, informing him that it is impossible to do the work for the figure set off in the bid. After some discussion, B tells A later on to go ahead, A agreeing to do the work at a fair price, which B consents to. As the agreement was made verbally, is A entitled to the additional cost to the original bid, and will the court uphold him?

Answer.—Yes. An oral contract is as good legally as a written one in most cases. The only difficulty is to prove it, while a written one speaks for itself.—Law Editor.

A New Fireproof Nine-Story and Basement Steel Skeleton Business Building.

No. 64 FULTON STREET,

Size, 24 x 75 Feet.

Fitted up with steam heat, electric light, elevator and power, and intended for light manufacturing. This building, the first of its kind in this old and well-known section, and now about being completed, aims to furnish modern accommodations and improved facilities for the many small but important industries that cluster around the centre of the metal trade, and have hitherto had to be content with hand power machines in poorly lighted, stuffy garrets, up dark flights of shaky stairs, in the old buildings of 80 or 100 years ago.

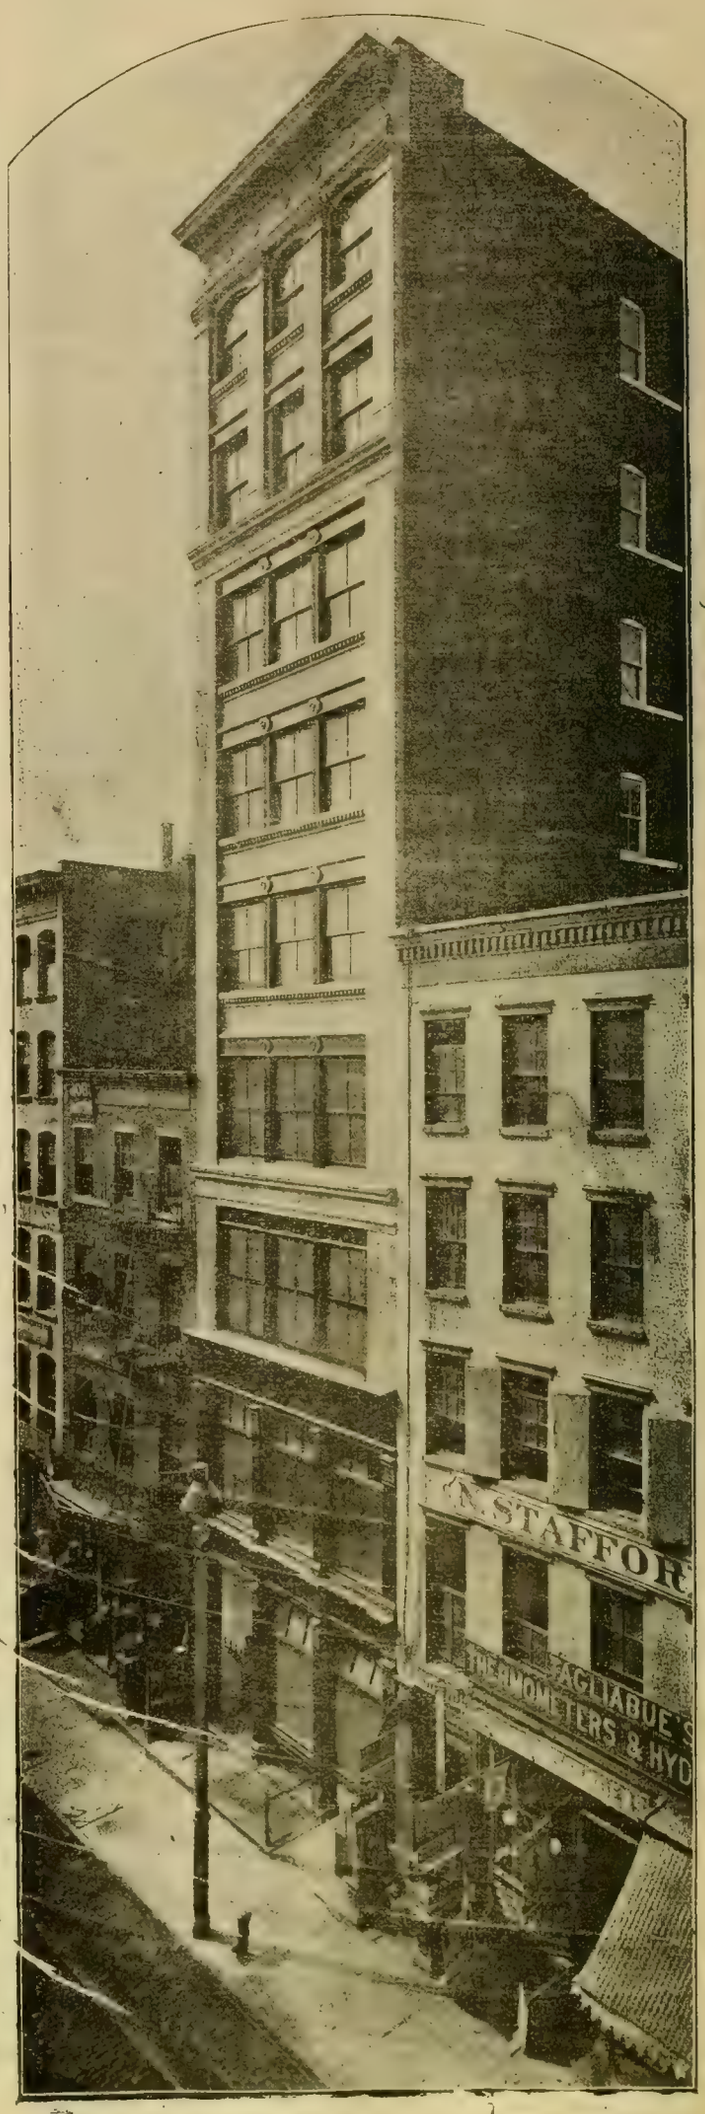
It provides abundance of daylight on front, rear and sides, and electric light wherever wanted. Electric power from ½ to 10 horse-power is on tap in every loft, and an electric elevator for the passengers and freight makes the 9th story as available as the lowest.

The basement is fitted up for a first-class restaurant, and has a marble-lined entrance and marble steps down from street. It has a large light kitchen and handsome modern toilet. The 1st and 2d stories contain stores with plate glass fronts, and the seven upper stories are lofts, adapted to any kind of light manufacturing, whether with or without power, and are arranged so that they can be subdivided. Each loft has water supply and toilet. Steam heat and elevator service will be furnished to every tenant without charge.

The rents on lease for two or more years will be as follows:

Basement, $1,200.

1st story store, $2,50[illegible].



2d story store, $1,800.

3d to 9th lofts, each $1,000.

BUILDINGS PROJECTED.

THE LAWS AFFECTING BUILDING.

There has not been any book on the market containing all the laws and regulations relating to building in New York City; yet the need of such a volume is plain enough, because a building from its foundation to its final demolition is subject not only to the building law, but to special regulations of the building department concerning passenger elevators, fire-escapes, light and ventilation and plumbing. There is also a law limiting the height of dwelling houses and another requiring temporary flooring. There are the tenement house and lodging house laws, laws relating to the extinction and prevention of fires and explosives, and the storing of combustible materials in buildings. Moreover, there are very important fire department regulations which must be observed in the installation of electrical apparatus, and there are, of course, all the regulations of the department of public works concerning Croton water rates and the use of water, the opening and refilling of trenches and restoring of street pavements; in addition to ordinances pertain- architect, builder, building material man and real estate owner must be familiar with these laws and regulations; if he is not, he suffers. They are now all gathered together (with a directory of architects) for the first time in one volume, illustrated, indexed and supplied in $2.50. Record and Guide, Publishers, 14 and 16 Vesey Street.

The first name is that of the owner; ar't stands for architect, m'n for mason, c'r for carpenter and b'r for builder.

When character of roof is not mentioned it is to be understood that the roof is to be of tin.

Questions and Answers

RENT RECEIPT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

In Record and Guide No. 1590 (September 3d), page 318, you give a form of receipt said to be non-taxable, but other papers say that form of amount and place is taxable. Will you please state your authority that we may be sure?

Answer.—The Collector of Internal Revenue.—Law Editor.

RESPONSIBILITY OF BROKER.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Is it not against the law in this State for a broker, or manager of an estate to offer for sale or exchange a certain piece of property, and then, when terms were agreed upon, to draw up contract of agreement, with the rightful owner's name exempt? For instance: Can he or they, as the case may be, write Mrs. Mary Jones, party of the first part, whereas a Mrs. Annie Brown was the rightful owner, the broker being in full knowledge of the fact. Can this broker he held responsible for misrepresentation?

Answer.—The would-be purchaser wants the property; it makes no difference to him whether the name of Mary Jones or Annie Brown is in the contract if he gets it. If he enters into a contract made out by the broker and signed by one not the owner of the property, and does not get it, he can hold the broker responsible civilly, but not criminally. If the rightful owner, Annie Brown, authorized Mary Jones to sign the contract then he can hold Annie Brown.—Law Editor.

NUISANCE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

My business is that of artistic stained glass, and immediately opposite me is an elevator of grain, the dust from which is a perfect nuisance on days when they are working, preventing me carrying on my business. Have I no redress? Please inform me. I have offered to sell, but they pay no attention. Can I go for them with a writ of habeas corpus?

Answer.—You have no redress except to find another location for your business. A writ of habeas corpus would not be of any avail.—Law Editor.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.
